Suggestion of Early Empire Conference On Defence Rejected

Premier Baldwin Tells Members of Commons in London United Kingdom Already Keeping in Touch With Measures in Dominions; British Army Estimates Made Public Today Total $246,000,000

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—The suggestion that an imperial conference be called over the British government's plan for increased defences was rejected in the House of Commons today by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

The suggestion was put forward by Commander W. Bower, Conservative member for Cleveland, Yorkshire. Commander Bower inquired whether, in view of the White Paper proposals, Mr. Baldwin would call a conference of representatives of the dominions and India, including representatives of the Indian princes, to consider more material contributions by them to imperial defence in the common interest.

Mr. Baldwin said the fullest touch was maintained between the United Kingdom and the rest of the empire on all major questions of imperial defence through the Imperial Defence Committee and the normal means of communication. He did not consider the suggestion of a conference could be usefully adopted at the present stage, he added.

NO FIGURES PRESENTED
Questioners failed to gain information on the actual cost of the programme—officially estimated as high as $1,500,000,000 over three years—on the means by which the money would be raised. Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said such a statement would be more appropriate during the forthcoming presentation of the budget.

Mr. Chamberlain said, however, he had not yet decided how the money would be raised, and therefore Parliament would not have this information during the impending defence debate. Owing to the flexible and variable character of the proposals and the difficulty of estimating beforehand the possible rate of their execution, it was impracticable to state even approximately the total cost or the additional cost of upkeep. Tokyo, March 5.—Emperor Hirohito charged Foreign Minister Koki Hirota today with the task of attempting to form a new cabinet to liquidate Japan's governmental crisis, precipitated by last week's military attack on the Okada ministry.

Sabotage In Battlecruiser

H.M.S. Republic Damaged at Portsmouth; Damage Also Found in Submarine H-28

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—The Admiralty today was investigating two new cases of suspected sabotage aboard warships—making a total of six such incidents reported within the last three months. Apparent attempts at sabotage had been made on the battlecruiser Repulse and the submarine H-28, the Admiralty announced. The nature and extent of the damage to the ships was not disclosed, however.

Building Service Strike Spreads In New York

While the elevators were idle, two grocery boys were having a long hard climb up to the apartment of a favored customer on Park Avenue when the above picture was taken.

Associated Press
New York, March 5.—Carrying out his promise of a "fight to the finish" following unsuccessful peace negotiations, James J. Hambrick, leader of the building workers' strike, today ordered his district lieutenants to prepare to call out employees in three sections of the city, one of them the big midtown office building area.

In the midtown or Grand Central district are located some of the city's large skyscrapers, notably Rockefeller Center, the Empire State Building and the Chrysler Tower. Orders for the strike call also went out to field operatives in two other sectors as yet unaffected by the walkout—Herald and Washington Heights.

Tomorrow, Hambrick declared, the strike zone would be extended to Brooklyn and Queens. He added he had been a tiffed by officials of the Hotel Employees' Union that workers in some of the city's largest hostels would join the walkout tomorrow.

Try to Change Health Measure

Numerous Proposals Expected When Insurance Bill Goes to House

Members of the Legislature, both Liberal and Opposition, are preparing a host of amendments for the government's health insurance bill, to be presented when the measure reaches the House.

Some will attempt to raise the wage limit of those covered from $1,800 to $2,400, which was in the original draft last year. Others will seek to have a plebiscite clause inserted to require a vote before the scheme goes into operation. Still others propose that it should be left to the government to bring the plan in by proclamation.

The caucus was reported to have spent three hours on the measure yesterday evening without reaching final decision.

London, March 5.—The national council of the Labor Party today unanimously decided to oppose the rearmament programme embodied in the government's white paper, issued Tuesday.

BUDGET MAY COME NEXT WEDNESDAY

While this was not officially confirmed, members of the House expected today that Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, would present his budget to the B.C. Legislature next Wednesday. Premier Pattullo is scheduled to conclude the debate on the address next Monday.

SAY STALIN SEES DANGERS

British Papers Say He Appraises Situation in Warning Japan on Mongolia

Canadian Press from Havas
London, March 5.—Joseph Stalin's blunt interview with Roy W. Howard, director of the Scripps-Howard newspapers in the United States, was received in the British press today as a statesmanlike appraisal of present war dangers.

"It should have a salutary effect on Tokyo," commented The London News-Chronicle, Liberal, on the Soviet dictator's frank avowal that the Soviet Union would come to the defence of the Outer-Mongolian People's Republic if it were attacked by Manchukuo or Japan.

"Stalin in reality is doing no more than giving expression to the uneasiness which is affecting the minds of statesmen everywhere. No harm can be done by his open discussion of the more apparent dangers."

COURT CLEARED AS SPY EVIDENCE IS HEARD IN LONDON

Associated Press
London, March 5.—Carrying out his promise of a "fight to the finish" following unsuccessful peace negotiations, James J. Hambrick, leader of the building workers' strike, today ordered his district lieutenants to prepare to call out employees in three sections of the city, one of them the big midtown office building area.

ACCUSED WAS LIGHTHEARTED

Manchester Murder Trial Jury Told Dr. B. Buxton Joked About Police

Associated Press
Manchester, Eng., March 5.—A garage proprietor testified today that Dr. Buck Ruxton, on trial for the slaying of his wife and mistress, considered it the "joke of his life" that police had been questioning him about finding the dismembered bodies of two women.

The witness, Henry Hudson, said Dr. Ruxton had told him "he was tickled to death, and it was the joke of his life that police had been questioning him about the Moffat job."

The conversation occurred a few days after the prosecution contends, Ruxton killed the two women and tossed their bodies into the Devil's Beef-tub, a ravine near Moffat.

The crown marshaled procession of witnesses to the stand today. These included a medical officer who claimed Ruxton's hand had been cut by a knife, a charwoman who "noticed a nasty smell" in the Ruxton home, and a garage proprietor who said Ruxton had talked to him about the murders.

Dr. Stanley Sannon, medical officer of the Manchester prison, said he had examined Ruxton's hands after they had been arrested and that one of them was injured. He came to the conclusion that "cuts had been caused by a knife or similar instrument through the hands as it closed."

Ethiopia Accepts League Proposal, But Duce Says Occupied Land to Be Held

Reports State Italy Unwilling to Have Territory Taken by Army in East Africa Form Part of Peace Negotiations; Conditions Expected to Be Conveyed in Communication to Geneva; Ethiopia Accepts Unconditionally the Proposal the League Direct Negotiations

Associated Press
Geneva, March 5.—League of Nations officials announced today Ethiopia had accepted unconditionally the Council conciliation committee's appeal for an end to hostilities with Italy, pending definite peace negotiations within the League's framework.

The text of the Ethiopian reply to the appeal, dispatched Tuesday, was being relayed to Geneva by the Ethiopian minister at Paris.

RED CROSS IS FLIERS' TARGET

Three Kenya British Men and Seven Ethiopians Killed By Italian Fliers

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—Three British subjects—Kenya boys—have been killed in an Italian war plane attack on a British Red Cross unit at Quorom in Ethiopia. British authorities are investigating. If the report is correct, Britain probably will make strong representations to Rome.

This is the third time a British unit has been involved in bombing raids in Ethiopia. The first was when a unit went to the assistance of an Ethiopian unit which had been bombed. The second was at Waddis three weeks ago, when bombs were dropped within 150 yards of a unit. The position of the unit concerned in the latest report was only about thirty miles from the front line.

ROOSEVELT, LATE, EXPLAINS WHY

Associated Press
Washington, March 5.—The reason President Roosevelt was late yesterday evening for a cabinet dinner leaked out today. The President could not find the studs for his waistcoat.

It was said a further search for the lost studs was being made today.

Trend to Smaller Families In City

Birth Rate Below Death Rate Here in 1935; Influx of Aged Retired Contribute to Condition

A condition probably unique in major towns on the continent obtained in Victoria last year, according to vital statistics released today by Dr. Richard Felton, city's medical health officer.

In 1935 a steadily declining birth rate actually showed figures below the death rate. The birth rate was 10.8 per 1,000 citizens against a death rate of 11.6 on the same basis.

"Greater Victoria appears unique in showing a negative vital index," Dr. Felton commented. Since a chart showing the trend in the city was started in 1921 the birth rate has declined, he explained, while the number of deaths has shown no appreciable reduction. While the two lines on the graph have been coming steadily together, deaths did not exceed birth until 1935.

The doctor did not think the trend was due to economic conditions, since mortality figures have shown very little fluctuation. The change, he thought, was more social than anything else.

In place of large families popular a comparatively short time ago, the number of children born to the average family was small today, he said. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Social Creditor Declines to Comment on Alberta's Repeated Invitation

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—Major C. H. Douglas today declined to reveal either the contents of the cable he had received from Premier Aberhart of Alberta or what his reply would be to the latest communication from the Alberta government, which engaged him as principal adviser in the institution of Social Credit.

Major Douglas, who had indicated his intention of resigning the post, said: "It is impossible for me to make any further statement at all." He declined even to say whether he had received the cable from Premier Aberhart.

DELAY ANNOYS NEW AMBASSADOR

Associated Press
Nanking, China, March 5.—The tenure of Hachiro Arita as the new Japanese Ambassador to China started in unpromising fashion today as the new envoy arrived aboard the gunboat Ataka to present his credentials to Chairman Linsen of the Chinese National Government.

A representative of the Chinese Foreign Office assigned to welcome Arita was an hour and one-half late. Arita was annoyed but declined to comment.

New Trade Treaty Gives B.C. Gains

J. G. Turgeon, Cariboo, Tells Commons Exporters Welcome Market in U.S.

Ottawa, March 5.—As the commons this afternoon continued debate on the Canada-United States trade treaty expectations were voiced the vote on ratification would be taken next Tuesday or Wednesday. There is still a substantial list of speakers to be heard.

Discussion occupied yesterday afternoon, continuing till the House adjourned at 6 p.m. till today. In one form or another, the treaty will be before the House for two or three weeks more because the tariff changes must pass through committee stage and one or two ancillary bills be considered.

J. G. Turgeon, Liberal, whose Cariboo constituency stretches into the north of British Columbia, yesterday afternoon praised the lumber provisions, while his father, a white-haired senator from New Brunswick, whose party was in opposition, was more pessimistic. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

LEADERS IN NEW YORK STRIKE

George Sealie, left, president of the International Building Service Employees' Union, and James J. Hambrick, right, president of the Manhattan local, are directing the strike of building service workers in New York. Many elevators in tall structures are standing idle as the dispute continues.

JAPANESE WELCOME

Kobe, Japan, March 5.—Japan gave a hero's welcome today to Admiral Osami Nagano and Matsuzaki Nagai on their arrival from the London International Naval Conference.

Admiral Nagano said in a statement: "Beginning in 1937, naval limitations treaties are terminated and therefore we will be beset with many difficulties. All people must unite to promote the empire's well-being and to cope with future developments."

lamentary experience goes back to the turn of the century, listened from a gallery.

Mr. Turgeon read a telegram from the Prince George Spruce Manufacturers' Association, commending the lumber provisions. He protested against the argument that the treaty would switch trade north and south, whereas it had been built up on east and west lines. Undue tariff protection for the central provinces, he said, was penalizing primary producers in the east and west.

Canada was intended as a primary production country, Mr. Turgeon said. Secondary industries were built on protection, but their growth was made at the expense of primary industries.

Development of the Cariboo district, he said, necessitated an agreement with the United States and a market for natural products.

mystery today as Premier Abernethy awaited a reply from the Social Credit world leader on Alberta's renewed request to come here as "special reconstruction adviser."

The cabinetman dispatched to Major Douglas yesterday, Premier Abernethy said, was as follows: "Social Credit members in caucus unanimously request you to come to Edmonton as per your original contract about March 30. Original reply."

The Social Credit founder's reply had been expected early today, but failed to arrive.

VOICES OF CONFIDENCE

Ottawa, March 5.—John H. Blackmore, ex-Attorney-General, leader of the Social Credit members of Parliament, today expressed confidence in the ability of Premier Abernethy to introduce Social Credit in Alberta without the assistance of Major C. H. Douglas, British Social Credit expert and former adviser of the Alberta government.

"Naturally we regret Major Douglas has decided not to go to Alberta," said Mr. Blackmore in an interview. "Major Douglas is the number one Social Credit expert in the world, but he himself has said any one of a dozen other men could introduce Social Credit in Alberta."

"We are sure Premier Abernethy is equal to the task. He has with him several splendid and capable men in the cabinet and in the Alberta Legislature, as well as outside, who can assist him."

Police Hunt Man In Vancouver

Try to Find Individual Who Frightened Women in Street

Vancouver, March 5.—Police continued to search today for an unidentified man following attacks on several women in the Fairview district of the city.

The last victim was Florence Simons, who told police a man crept up behind her at 27th Avenue and Gladstone Street yesterday evening, seized her around the waist and placed a hand over her mouth. She struggled free and called for help. The man then fled.

Two men were taken into custody by police Tuesday evening in connection with an attack on another woman, but were later released when she failed to identify either of them as the attacker.

Victoria's favorable climatic conditions and other natural assets might account to some extent for the unique condition, he noted, remarking that there was a regular influx of aged retired people to this city.

They came here at an advanced age, generally, and remained until death, he said.

The reduction in the birth rate was common to virtually all civilized countries, Dr. Felton remarked, but as far as he knew an actual negative vital index was unique to Victoria. He is endeavoring to learn if any other city of any size has experienced a similar condition.

Harry O'Donnell, convicted of the murder of twenty-year-old Ruth Taylor and sentenced to be hanged May 5 today signed the official notice of his appeal against the sentence.

Vancouver Has $40,000 Fire

Vancouver, March 5.—Fire of undetermined origin which started in the asphalt-making plant of the Canada Roof Products Ltd., Tenth Avenue and Arbutus Street, shortly after noon today caused damage estimated at $40,000 to plant, buildings and machinery.

Thirty employees of the company were at lunch when the fire started. Several of them received burns on their hands as they assisted firemen in fighting the blaze.

W. D. Gray, manager, estimated the loss, covered by insurance, at $30,000 on equipment and $10,000 on buildings.

Asked by his own attorney as to whether he "had any idea of being employed abroad," Gortz answered: "Yes, but at a different stage. I pointed out in one document that I had good acquaintances, especially in America. I was thinking of duty as a German officer in the German embassy as an attaché."

Gortz was still on the stand when the court adjourned for the day.

Gortz was arrested at Harwich November 8 on charges of making a sketch of the Manston royal air force station and conspiring with Marianne Emig, young German woman, against the Official Secrets Act.

MAN REGAINS HIS WOODEN LEG

Washington, March 5.—By court decree, William C. Lassalle, one-legged war veteran, today recovered a wooden leg held by his former landlady as security for an unpaid bill of $25.

Another hearing March 25 on the landlady's claim was ordered, however, by the magistrate who considered the case at nearby Mount Rainier, Md.

The ex-soldier said he had not the money but he needed the leg badly.

DELIBERATE ACT

Canadian Press from Havas

Addis Ababa, March 5.—The bombing and partial destruction of a British ambulance unit at Quorum, in the northern war zone, by an Italian plane, was a deliberate act, a reliable Ethiopian source declared today.

This source said the Italian plane circled ten times over the ambulance unit, marked with a Red Cross emblem forty feet wide.

A. M. J. Mollay, head British doctor in the unit, declared in a detailed account of the bombing dispatched to his government, that three ambulance tents, one of which served as an operating room, were wrecked.

An investigation will be launched by the British legation at the Ethiopian capital.

OTTAWA'S ESTIMATE

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 5.—Dominion government officials said today they expected about 14,000,000 ounces of newly-mined Canadian silver would be available for sale to the United States treasury this year through the Bank of Canada.

Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the United States Treasury, was reported from Washington as saying his agreement to buy newly-mined Canadian silver was expected to absorb the entire Canadian output, which he estimated at 16,000,000.

BUYING FROM MINES

Under the London silver agreement, which will terminate next year, the Canadian government agreed to buy 1,671,802 ounces of silver annually from Canadian mines. Canada's total production of silver in 1934 was approximately 16,418,282 ounces. Figures for 1935 are not complete, but mining officials said they anticipated little change from the 1934 figure.

In addition to Canadian government purchases, which must be deducted from the total available for sale to the United States, it was pointed out a considerable amount of silver is shipped out of the Dominion as concentrate after being recovered as a supplementary product in mines producing other metals.

G. A. Macmillan Dies in London

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 5.—Word was received here yesterday of the death in London, Eng., of George Augustine Macmillan, eighty-one, partner in the publishing house bearing his name, and a director of the Macmillan Company of Canada Limited.

Mr. Macmillan was one of the founders and for forty years secretary of the Hellenic Society.

Minister of War Resigns in Greece

Athens, Greece, March 5.—Gen. Alexander Papagos, Minister of War, and his undersecretary resigned today after a dispute with King George.

The controversy arose over the monarch's apparent intention to deal liberally with the officers who participated in the revolt last March against the campaign to consolidate political factions.

Gen. John Matsas, former cabinet minister and high army official, was named to the post Papagos left.

Political circles expressed the belief the King's firm stand had prevented a revolution and the capital released as the crisis was believed concluded as present.

New Zealand Will Increase Defences

Wellington, N.Z., March 5.—The New Zealand government will in all probability greatly increase its aviation and anti-aerial defences in line with the British government's rearmament plans, it was said today. Government leaders here are closely studying the London white paper.

They believe New Zealand should concentrate her rearmament plans on the air arms and anti-air defence since the country's isolated position removes the desirability of creating a powerful army or navy, it was said.

New Jersey Governor Says That as Matters Now Stand, He Will Not Interfere With Sentence

Associated Press

New York, March 5.—Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey denied today there would be another reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby.

"As matters now stand," Governor Hoffman said just before addressing a luncheon meeting, "there will be no further reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann."

Hauptmann is under sentence to be executed during the week of March 30.

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, March 5.—British army estimates for 1936 issued today total £49,281,000, or £246,000,000, which is £5,731,000 higher than last year. This sum includes £1,555,000 for expenditures arising in consequence of the Italo-Ethiopian hostilities.

But the present estimates—like the higher naval estimates issued yesterday—do not include any expenditures under the white paper plan for increased defences. Nor do they provide for the extra cost that may be incurred this year for maintaining troops away from their regular stations.

Increase for the army and navy together total £18,611,000. The Royal Air Force estimates are still to come, and the Air Force increases are expected to be heavier still.

Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary of War, in an accompanying memorandum, tells what the army is doing and what it plans to do. It is a story of the triumph of the machine over the old-time days, of new weapons called into being against the devastating menace of the skies.

Girl Testifies At Murder Trial

Frances Bannister, 15, Tells Dorchester, N.B., Jury of What She Saw in Woods

Canadian Press

Dorchester, N.B., March 5.—Sullen and sometimes refusing to answer questions, fifteen-year-old Frances Bannister stood in the witness box today at the trial on a murder charge of her brother Arthur, and told of events preceding the backwoods tragedy that brought death to a settler and two of his family early last January.

The girl, whose brother Daniel also is charged with murder, and whose mother has been indicted on a charge of kidnapping, said she and her two brothers had gone to the isolated home of Philip Lake at Pacific Junction the night of January 5, when Lake was shot and left to die in his burning cabin. His housekeeper, Mrs. Marshall Ring, and their twenty-one-month-old son, Jack, were found dead on a snowdrift.

She and her brother Daniel were outside Lake's shack when "a noise that sounded like a shot" came from the house," Frances said. Then Arthur came out with Lake's younger baby, Betty, six months old.

Frances said she was handed the baby and then fled into the neighboring bush. She said she heard a woman's scream as she stumbled along a narrow path, and through the heavy brush she could see the burning home.

COURT TEST ON APPLE LEVY

Canadian Press
Kentville, N.S., March 5.—H. O. Bishop and Herbert Oyer, Annapolis Valley apple kings, are both plaintiffs and defendants in a case to come before Magistrate H. M. Chase tomorrow.

In information laid yesterday, the Nova Scotia marketing board charges the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia Limited and Herbert Oyer Limited with failure to pay a toll of two cents a barrel on all apples shipped to Canadian markets.

Bishop is general manager and secretary of the United Fruit Companies and Oyer is president of Herbert Oyer Limited.

Members of the Nova Scotia marketing board include Bishop and Oyer.

Woman Injured In Car Mishap

Lake Cowichan, March 5.—Mrs. E. Williams was injured with an accident during the week-end when her car and a truck came into collision on the Duncan road.

Mrs. Williams was removed to Duncan Hospital with her face badly cut by being thrown against the windshield. Both car and truck were damaged.

Spain's Envoy To Vatican Recalled

Madrid, March 5.—President Alcalá Zamora yesterday notified Leandro Pita Romero, Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, that his "mission to Rome" was ended.

Pita Romero tendered his resignation as ambassador when Lefebvre won the recent parliamentary election.

A well-informed source said he believed Spain would appoint no successor.

FEARED REDS IN GERMANY

Associated Press
Washington, March 5.—Concern of the United States lest Communists

All German Arms Plans Are Speeded

seize control of the German government in 1910 was disclosed in secret diplomatic documents published by the State Department yesterday.

The United States government was shown to have regarded the possibility as such a serious one that it warned German officials that relief measures undertaken here to aid the stricken German population would be imperiled.

The story was related in dispatches dealing with Germany's post war troubles. They were exchanged between Loring Duesel, United States Commissioner at Berlin, and Bainbridge Colby and Frank L. Folk, Secretary and Acting Secretary of State.

CONSCRIPTION IS SLOW IN CHINA

Associated Press
Nanking, March 5.—The Nanking Government published in the official gazette yesterday the national military conscription law promulgated three years ago, but included no details or means of enforcement.

The action seems to indicate the government is preparing to undertake conscription, but as the law is not yet complete the movement has not begun.

While Army Expanded Twenty-eight U-boats Being Built; Rapid Increase in Air Force

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Berlin, March 5.—Week by week Germany's military is increasingly concentrated on preparing the nation's forces to fight for the Fatherland.

With each new gun, airplane and warship, Nazi leaders believe they increase their power to bargain with those colonies, revision of certain frontiers and other demands cannot long be denied them.

Successful laying of the groundwork for rebuilding the military machine is considered by experts to have been accomplished in the year that has passed since the Nazi dictator, Adolf Hitler, unshackled the Reich from the Versailles Treaty clauses which destroyed the old army.

The military machine is being instructed in what to do in case of war. All phases of life, officials said, are being "ground together" to uphold the army.

Land armaments are further along than either the air or naval, but military men are coming to realize that the navy is being built in the training of officers, foreign military experts assert, is one indication the army heads do not expect to be called on to fight for some time to come.

On land, twenty-four of the thirty-six contemplated divisions have been completed as far as the public knows. The great armaments are turning out necessary equipment for the conscripts who have been called to the colors under Hitler's decree of a year ago, to serve one year.

On the sea, more than half of the twenty-eight U-boats provided for in the 1935 programme are completed, while work on 26,000-ton ships, two cruisers of 1,000 tons and sixteen destroyers is being pushed.

The absence of haste in the training of officers, foreign military experts assert, is one indication the army heads do not expect to be called on to fight for some time to come.

HIGHER TRACK AND POLE TAX

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 5.—A committee of the Vancouver city council yesterday reached a compromise with representatives of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. and the B.C. Telephone Company on an increased basis of assessing the companies in lieu of taxation of tracks, poles and other facilities on city streets, it was announced.

The council will be asked Friday to "authorize" the arrangement under which the levy on the companies for this purpose will be increased 50 per cent.

Under the city charter the companies are now assessed 1 per cent of their gross annual revenue derived within the city for their facilities on city streets. The agreement will expire at the end of this year, and the city has asked the legislature to increase the figure to 3 per cent.

The utility companies refused to agree to this larger figure and a compromise was reached at 1½ per cent.

If the city council accepts the new proposal the companies will enter a consent arrangement before the private bills committee of the Legislature. If the proposal is not accepted, however, the companies will go before the legislative committee and oppose any increase at all.

HUDSON CAR REPORTS PROFIT

Canadian Press
Tilbury, Ont., March 5.—Annual report of the Hudson Motor Car Company, covering operations in Canada, the United States and Great Britain, showed a profit of $894,749 for 1935, compared with a loss of more than $2,000,000 in 1934. The report was made public here yesterday.

Canadian business for the year was reported satisfactory. The international organization built and shipped 101,080 cars in 1935.

"BUILD B.C. PAYROLLS"

A lady writes that she likes Pacific Milk for its economy and usefulness. She is trying to live on a small salary, and finds that she can keep her little girl well and strong for less money by using Pacific Milk in puddings, custards and so on. We appreciate this letter, and are glad to feel that Pacific Milk has the purity, richness and freshness that makes it so valuable, and the cost is low.

ALDERMEN VOTE THEMSELVES PAY

Port Moody, B.C., March 5.—The Port Moody city council has passed its 1936 estimates, which include provision for salaries for the mayor and four aldermen. This will be the first time for many years these officials have received salaries for their services. The mayor will get $500 for the year and the councilors $150 each. The tax rate was fixed at forty mills on 100 per cent of assessed value of land and on twenty-five per cent of improvements. This is the same rate as has been effective for several years.

SMALL RETAIL SALES GAIN

Independent Stores Show Increase of 12.7 Per Cent For Year

New York, March 4.—For 3,000 small independent retail stores, the average rate of increase in sales for 1935 over 1934 was 12.7 per cent. Because no such records have been available, the substantial contribution made by the small independent retailers to the increase in sales in 1935 has been given little credit in the official statistics. Interest has been focused on department stores, mail-order houses, and corporate chains for which statistics were readily available. Yet, even in the peak year of 1929, half the volume of retail sales was provided by the vast number of small enterprises operating under the form of individual proprietorships or partnerships, according to an article, "Progress of Distribution in 1935," which appears in the current issue of The Dun and Bradstreet Monthly Review.

AVERAGE GAIN 12.7 PER CENT

This new statistical evidence is based on the first 3,000 returns for retail stores with sales in 1935 less than $50,000 each, to the Third Retail Trade Survey, conducted by the Research and Statistical Division of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc. The average rate of increase in sales for 1935 over 1934 was 12.7 per cent, compared with the increase in industrial production of 14.1 per cent, and factory pay rolls of 13.6 per cent, and agricultural income of 12 per cent.

While no selectivity was exercised in the 3,000 stores used for the compilation, allowance doubtless should be made for the fact that the tendency presumably was for the best organized units to report more promptly in answer to the inquiry. Neither did stores in any particular section enter unduly into the calculations, as the tabulation was based upon returns from all districts.

SALES BY LINES OF TRADE

"When one comes to making comparisons among the various lines of trade," the article points out, "it is important to keep in mind that the percentage figures represent comparisons between two years. Consequently, partial improvement from an extremely low 1934 figure might result in a higher percentage than the record of an industry which had suffered less from the depression, but which actually was breaking into new high levels."

Of the eighteen lines of trade included, the greatest gains were recorded by outlets dealing in hardware and implements, automobiles, lumber, and drugs, restaurants were close to the top of the list with an increase of 22.8 per cent. The marked improvement in the first list undoubtedly was the result of the increased purchase of agricultural implements by farmers and the revival of construction, which also explained the advance in lumber sales. The automobile improvement was in large part due to the unusual stimulation resulting from the advance in the date of the initial showing of 1936 models.

PRICE CHANGES REFLECTED

"Sales increases may reflect price changes, as well as volume changes," the article continues. "This was particularly well demonstrated by the fact that groceries with meat departments advanced 14.3 per cent, while groceries alone advanced only 9.5 per cent. This can be explained readily by the relatively wider rise in the level of retail meat prices than in other food and grocery products."

AUSTRALIA TO ADD DEFENCES

Premier Lyons Says Expenditure on Forces Will Be Increased

Canadian Press via Reuters
Melbourne, Australia, March 5.—Prime Minister J. A. Lyons yesterday indicated Australia's defence expenditures would be augmented, following publication of the British government's white paper on expansion of Britain's defence.

He told a deputation here it was impossible to promise cuts in taxation until a decision had been made on the defence question.

Official circles said the defence expenditures in the Commonwealth were likely to exceed the estimated figure of £7,500,000 (about $35,000,000).

Premier Lyons said the white paper would have "a very important effect" on Australia's policy.

Canada's Pacific Trade Increases

Exports to Australia Up 35 Per Cent in 1935; Imports Up 17 Per Cent

Ottawa, March 5.—Canada's trade with Australia during 1935 showed a gain of 35 per cent in exports and 17 per cent in imports over the previous year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Total trade with Australia amounted to $39,105,000 in 1935, against $29,201,000 in 1934. Imports from Australia were worth $7,500,000 last year against $6,331,000 in 1934, and exports totaled $32,800,000, compared with $16,870,000.

Among the principal exports were automobiles valued at $7,012,000, automobile parts $918,000, fish $2,060,000, paper $4,261,000, tools $419,000, wood (unmanufactured) $2,000,000, planks and boards $1,540,000.

Leading items imported were dried fruits valued at $3,422,000, preserved fruits $363,000, wool and products $1,638,000, grease for soaps and oils $175,000, raw wool $494,000, onions $57,000, gelatine $108,000, brandy $53,000, sugar $1,008,000.

Haggis Supply Is Interrupted

Commons Told Shipment From Scotland Stopped at Montreal

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 5.—Scotsmen in Canada are in a bad way. They can get no haggis from Scotland, but to add insult to injury they have been told they may get them from France.

William A. Fraser, Liberal member for Northumberland, Ont., brought the matter to the attention of the high court of Parliament yesterday afternoon and asked Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, what steps the government proposed to take to restore to Scotsmen their ancient rights. He got no immediate answer.

The member based his question on a letter he had received from a prominent citizen who said that "as a Scotsman born in Dumfriesshire of sheep-stealing ancestors I am passionately fond of the national dish of Scotland, namely the haggis."

The writer went on to say he had been accustomed to import haggis for many years, but recently had been informed a permit from the Department of Agriculture was required. After much correspondence he found the permit would be issued by an official in Edinburgh, and after more difficulties got the permit. He ordered his haggis, but the shipment was stopped at Montreal.

ELECTIONS ACT TO BE CHANGED

Special Committee of Commons Named to Make Study and Recommend Amendments

Ottawa, March 5.—Minister of Justice Lapointe yesterday afternoon announced the personnel of a special committee of the House of Commons which will study the Dominion Elections Act of 1934 and amendments.

All parties are represented on the committee, which comprises twenty-two Liberals, five Conservatives, one C.P., one Social Credit, and the one member of the Reconstruction Party.

It was named as follows: Liberal members—C. E. Bothwell, Swift Current, Sask.; D. A. Cameron, Cape Breton North-Victoria; W. G. Clark, York-Sunbury, N.B.; J. Dussault, Lévis, Que.; S. Factor, Toronto; Spadina; W. G. Groulx, Drummond; Arthurs, Que.; J. A. Glen, Marquette, Man.; J. Jean, Montreal-Mercier; D. F. McQuig, Simcoe North, Ont.; C. R. McIntosh, North Battleford, Sask.; G. H. Purdy, Colchester-Hants, N.S.; W. F. Rickard, Durham, Ont.; L. P. A. Robichaud, Kent, N.B.; E. C. St. Pierre, Montreal-Hochelaga; F. Sinclair, Queen's, P.E.I.; A. G. Slaght, Parry Sound, Ont.; W. H. Taylor, Norfolk, Ont.; J. G. Turgeon, Carleton Place, Ont.; J. M. Turner, Springfield, Man.; and G. E. Wood, Brant, Ont.

Conservative members—J. R. MacNicol, Toronto-Davenport; E. E. Perley, Qu'Appelle, Sask.; Hon. H. A. Stewart, Leeds, Ont.; Hon. G. Stirling, Ottawa.

The committee will meet in the near future to select a chairman. REPRESENTATION ACT
Ottawa, March 4.—An amendment to the representation Act of 1933 is sought in a resolution put on the Commons order paper yesterday in the name of H. E. Brunselle, Liberal, Champlain, Que. In his opinion the act should be altered in order to "bring about a more equitable re-adjustment of the representation in the House of Commons and to effect thereby a more just redistribution of Canada's electoral districts."

ELECTIONS ACT STUDIED

Ottawa, March 5.—The special committee of the House of Commons created to study the Dominion Elections Act and the Dominion Franchise Act will be given "carte blanche" to examine different electoral systems in other countries.

Introducing the subject some days ago, Minister of Justice Ernest Lapointe assured the House the committee would be given the widest latitude in its study. Yesterday a resolution appeared on the order paper instructing the committee to study and make a report on the methods used to effect redistribution of electoral districts in Canada, and in other countries, and to make suggestions to the House in connection therewith.

My son said—
"Gee, Pop! I wish we had a telephone again. I feel out of it. The fellows tell me things I missed because they couldn't ring me up to invite me..."

That's another reason why we have had our telephone put back.

The Country Doctor

A Novelization of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Starring the Dionne Quintuplets, Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Peterson, June Lang, Michael Whalen and Slim Summerville

"This man's wife is sick, and she wants me. I'm going to go, and I'm going to stay as long as she needs attention," said Dr. Luke. "Come on, Asa!" Nurse Kennedy and Constable Ogden stand silently.

CHAPTER X

The next boat brought a worried and downcast Dr. Luke back to Moosetown. All the way from Montreal he revolved over and over again in his head the events of his misadventure, the cold reception by Sir Basil, his own outburst at the medical association dinner, the chance meeting with the Governor-General. Was it to be failure again? And how far had he antagonized the company officials? True, he was independent of the company, but most of his patients worked for it. If its officials chose to exert pressure—Dr. Luke shrugged, and sighed heavily.

His spirits rose, however, as the boat drew nearer home, and the familiar smell of the spruce woods met his nostrils. And when the North Star whistled and approached the Moosetown landing, Dr. Luke was almost his old self again.

Nurse Kennedy had brought his car to the dock, and on the way home gave the doctor a sketchy account of what had happened in his absence. She closed with "... and then, I'm happy to report, Tony nearly broke MacKenzie in two with one punch. Isn't that nice?"

"It's no joking matter, Katharine," replied the doctor, slowly. "He sent word to the boat that he wanted to see me."

"His arm's probably hurting him—I hope!" suggested the nurse. "I had to put the splint on it myself."

After a quick look through his mail and a hasty unpacking, Dr. Luke drove direct to MacKenzie's. He found the company manager seated behind his desk, arm in sling.

"Hello, Mack," said the doctor cordially. "Awfully sorry to hear about all this mix-up."

"Forget it," said MacKenzie sourly. The doctor set down his black satchel on the desk. "Let's have a look at the arm, he began."

"Now, what the heck is this?" asked MacKenzie brusquely. "You've gotten results already from your trip, that you understand or you don't?"

"Results? Already?" The doctor was incredulous. "I was afraid I had failed entirely."

"I have a letter here from Sir Basil," resumed MacKenzie coldly. "He tells me that you demanded action. Well, he's giving it to you. He's going to put a company doctor on the job at a regular salary—$200 a month."

"Two hundred dollars!" The words lingered on Dr. Luke's lips. Then, anxiously, he continued, "But look, Mack, I want to Montreal to try to get a hospital—no to get myself a salary!"

"Who said it was for you?" queried MacKenzie sternly. "Dr. Wilson. Will you come here, please?"

From the next room there emerged a young man, whom Dr. Luke immediately recognized as having come up on the boat with him—a sour, uncommunicative individual.

"Dr. Wilson is the company's new doctor," went on MacKenzie with relief. "From now on he will attend our men, and their families—without charge."

Stunned by the sight of his little world falling apart before his eyes, Dr. Luke made a gallant effort to pull himself together.

"Why, that's fine—that's fine, Mack. Be a good thing for the men." He extended his hand to Dr. Wilson. "Welcome to you, Doctor. You'll find they are good people here. If there's any help you want—anything at all I can do, just call on me."

There was an embarrassing silence for a moment. Then, slowly, Dr. Luke picked up his black bag and his hat.

"Goodbye, gentlemen," he said quietly, and turning slowly, he walked out the door with heavy feet. He returned to his house with a sense of foreboding, of the beginning of the end. Thirty-five years of building, and then—an earthquake!

The effects of the new company policy were not long in being felt. Not only did his actual practice fall off immediately to a mere trickle of patients, but some of his old friends on the street, without pausing for the usual interchange of greetings and gossip, as though they were conscious of eyes on them. Callers at the little consulting room became fewer and fewer. Toby, the doctor's dog, slept for longer periods on the mat without interruption.

Once Mary called to say that she had a letter from Tony. She was tearful as she broke down. "Oh, Doc, I'm so sorry! I know what's happen-

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The first essential in dieting is that you be in good health otherwise before you can afford to reduce. If your doctor gives his approval, you can lose about two pounds a week by taking an arrangement of food that provides about 1,200 or 1,400 calories a day.

Here is one day's menu of 1,200 calories, that includes all your body needs in the way of proteins, carbohydrates, fats, mineral salts, and vitamins:

Breakfast—One-half orange, two eggs, one thin slice dry toast, coffee sweetened with saccharin. Two tablespoons of thin cream, and one small cube of butter.

Lunch—Slice of lean meat, two tablespoons peas or string beans, one-half lettuce with a little French dressing.

Dinner—Clear bouillon, two slices lean meat, spinach or carrots, one-half head lettuce with French dressing, one-half orange, tea sweetened with saccharin, one-fourth of a cup of milk, a slice of thin bread toast, and a small cube of butter.

If there is any food on the list that you do not like, it is easy to substitute. One-half grapefruit can be substituted for the orange; an egg may be taken instead of the meat; cucumbers, radishes, asparagus, turnips, cabbage, spinach, or watercress may be used as alternate vegetables; or several may be taken at one time to make up a salad.

Occasionally, berries or tomato may be substituted for the orange or the grapefruit.

Here is another menu developed by a medical authority. It contains a little over 1,000 calories, and if you will eat just these foods and no others and carry on your normal work, you will lose from two to two and one-half pounds a week. If you do extra work or take more exercise, you will lose more.

Breakfast—Two small oranges or one large one, one egg, one slice toast bread (thin), one small square butter, one glass skim milk, one cup tea or coffee, clear.

Lunch—One cup of cottage cheese, one medium slice roast beef, three heaping tablespoons spinach, one salad containing eight stalks of asparagus, six heaping tablespoons of sliced peaches, one glass skim milk, one cup clear tea.

Supper—Three heaping tablespoons of cottage cheese, three heaping tablespoons of cauliflower, one baked tomato, one-third head lettuce with lemon juice or vinegar, six heaping tablespoons of red raspberries, one glass skim milk, one cup clear tea.

"This diet contains," you may insist, "twice as much food as I usually eat." But this observation is faulty. The list contains a variety of ingredients, but all are chosen with exact knowledge of what they provide in the way of calories and essential food substances.

J. J. Bowlen Leads Alberta Liberals

Edmonton, March 5.—J. J. Bowlen, M.P. for Calgary, has been named temporary House leader of the Liberal Party. Gerald O'Connor, member for Edmonton, announced the choice to the Legislature yesterday.

Gymnasiums, playgrounds and swimming pools by official decree must be installed in all new factories, clubs and apartment houses in Russia.

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliot

"Father's really pleased about our engagement," Sally went on. "He pretended at first he wasn't—you remember? Then he decided he was glad I was settling down. I've always had as much attention as I could afford to give him. He was afraid I might run off and do something really crazy. You remember that orchestra leader I told you about down at Maimi last year?"

"Well, and he thinks you're perfectly sane, Michael, honestly. Kiss me," she demanded suddenly, greedily, ending the discussion as she always ended it.

But he would not go into the bank, her father's bank, to please her. He would not go with her to the country club or the yacht club or the swimming pool until he had proved himself. She could coax and pout as she would. Michael knew this much. A man had to be the master. He had to have the last word.

Dimly Sally recognized this strength, respected it, even while she attempted to tear it down.

"He's a match for you," fat Joseph Moon said, with his wide smile. "I don't care what the town people say, whether the old tables say you're getting a roughneck or what; he's a man."

masculine weakness—what you will—was unable to free himself from it. Sally's adoration was often very sweet to him, but it was not enough. But in the main, he had the sensation of being a very large, very clumsy fly caught in a particularly sticky web. Many men, he reminded himself, had married. He had been told this; he had read it in books. Often fine marriages were built on just such foundations. Sally was pretty, strong, healthy, generous. What more did he want? In his wildest dreams he could not expect anything more of a wife.

Or could he? Wasn't there, somewhere, a spark waiting to be kindled? Hadn't his dark blue eyes flashed a message to him more than once during this drowsy summer? Had he ever felt, for a single instant with Sally, one-tenth of the pure emotion he had held Katharine's slender body in his arms?

Well, that had been a sort of madness. It was over now. The best way—the clearest way—was to take the path Sally had pointed out to him. She would be a true and faithful wife; they would, some day, have strong children. Sturdy little boys with Sally's opaque, dark eyes and her flashing smile. Why did he wince, inwardly, at the thought?

One day in early September he was returning from a solitary ride on the new dapple grey. The late evening was full of a soft and mellow light. The first star appeared, yellow, in skies the tender color of opals.

Michael rode into his own courtyard. Sally's car was parked there. She was slumped over the wheel, with an azure circular spread out before her. She looked up and waved as he came past.

"Look, marvellous, what I've got!" Michael alighted and came over to stand by her. She was rosy and seductively dressed, fragrant and bright-eyed. Yet his heart was like a lump of lead; he saw the picture, paid tribute—yet there was no real response in him.

"Look what I've brought," cried the girl, flustered by the travel circle. "Daddy has a job for you—South American trip—it's to do with horses, so you can't possibly object. I've been looking up sailings. We can be married right away."

CHAPTER XXII

Katharine brought her car to a stop before the drug store, the windows of which were emblazoned and placarded with picturesque endorsements. A life-sized cardboard figure of a blond girl in a white dress, the left hand corner, issuing from her mouth was a balloon explaining that daily use of some sort of patented product gave her that rose and gold complexion.

DR. W. O. ROSE OF NELSON DIES

Widely-known Medical Man Formerly Was Member of Legislature

Nelson, B.C., March 5.—Dr. W. O. Rose, popular medical man of the Kootenays and a resident here since 1899, died yesterday evening after a lengthy illness. He was sixty-six years of age.

Born in East Point, P.E.I., he taught school for a time. A graduate of McGill in medicine, he won a gold medal. He took a prominent part in civic affairs in Nelson and served as alderman and as mayor. In 1906 and 1920 he was elected to the British Columbia Legislature as a Conservative member.

APPROVE CODE FOR BUSINESS

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 5.—Many provisions in the proposed "master code" for Alberta retailers are favored by members of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, according to George MacKenzie, secretary of the association.

A division of opinion existed on minimum price fixing, as proposed in the western province, the secretary said, though it might be stated generally the retailers in the association were in favor of licensing and control.

"We are definitely opposed," he said, "to the 'loss leader' type of merchandise."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel" FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1936

While there are adverse planetary influences active this should be a fortunate day, according to astrology. Early morning and evening hours are the most propitious.

There is a promising sign for starting anything whether it be a business or a social project. Merchants are to profit through new modes and novel fads.

Again, the news prophesy a summer of gaiety with large profits to hotels and airplane companies. There will be much travel and an intense pursuit of pleasure. Danger of world-wide influenza outbreak involving the nations of Europe. Warning is given that while the United States may take a firm stand on neutrality the country will be involved if there is any extended war in either Europe or Asia.

Today there are omens that foreshadow accidents of many sorts. Explosions may be destructive in more than one place. In the evening students and others are well directed by the stars. Love affairs under this planetary government should be guided by more than ordinary common sense.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of confusion in their mysterious forces may be at work. Pleasant surprises are to be had. Others who have celebrated their birthday include Edmund Lebeuf, French marshal, 1865 and General Philip Sheridan, Civil War commander, 1871. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Use of Mirrors Gains

Mirrored glass and plate glass, both tinted and clear, are used increasingly in decoration, particularly as tops for small occasional tables. There are two chief tints in plate glass, flesh and blue. Among mirrored glass tints are flesh, deep blue, gunmetal and gold.

Public Servants TO HOLD DANCE

The third annual dance to be held under the auspices of the Public Service branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. 127, will be held on Friday next, 9:30 a.m., in the auditorium of the new Army and Navy building, Wharf and Broughton Streets, Messrs. W. H. Freeman, J. R. Mountain, J. C. Clever, Alex. Gordon and W. A. McClean being members of the committee responsible.

A large attendance of patrons is already assured, the personnel of the branch being composed of ex-servicemen in the employ of the provincial administration. The music will be supplied by Bert Zala's orchestra.

The Calgary and Toronto societies reported considerable progress in the anti-vivisection cause.

O. B. Killo, chairman, reported a most illuminating and interesting meeting with Lt.-Colonel Wakefield Rainey, M.R.C.V.S., on matters relative to animal welfare generally.

A petition asking that animals shall not be vivisected before students in Shantung Christian University may be signed at the society's office, 315 Bayward Building.

The sixteenth birthday celebration of the society will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 31, at the Y.W.C.A.

RICH EXPERIENCE

New York, March 5.—Most daring of the debutantes this season is Patricia Mallinson, heiress to the silk millions. Besides appearing in cotton rags in a local play called "Mulatto," she tells how once she worked as a dime-a-dance girl in a taxi hall. Her mother hauled her off the floor.

Literary Night By Y.P.S. Is Enjoyed

At the weekly meeting of the Victoria City Temple Young People's Society Tuesday a good attendance of members and friends enjoyed the programme outlined by the literary convener.

The worship service was conducted by E. Cliff and assisted by A. Swallow, after which a short business discussion was held, there being three visitors introduced and welcomed to the society.

Among the many interesting items on the programme was a paper written by the society, headed News, Sport and Social. It was read and caused considerable merriment, also a comic skit was produced by C. Lewis and W. Lewis, entitled "Who Is Your Boss?" A remarkable feat of the evening, performed by C. Lewis, was a shadowgraph operation showing the removal of an appendix, which was immensely applauded.

Next week's meeting is in charge of the devotional convener. A good attendance is expected.

Would Teach Household Arts

Boys and Girls Would Benefit, Says Mrs. P. Casgrain

Ottawa, March 5.—Mrs. Pierre Casgrain, president of the League for Women's Rights, last night came forward with a suggestion that a "little instruction in household duties might not do boys any harm."

The noted Canadian Feminist leader was developing an idea of Dr. J. H. Putnam, school inspector and noted educationist, that as 80 per cent of girls will be married before they are thirty years old, they should be instructed in such matters as household economy, home decoration, hygiene, nursing and music, rather than entirely in matters preparing them for business life.

She said she agreed with Dr. Putnam, but added: "Any logical-minded woman can see if 80 per cent of the girls will marry, so will 80 per cent of the boys, and a little instruction in household duties might not do them any harm."

Mrs. Casgrain said she would suggest in such a curriculum for boys "punctuality to meals, the use of the hammer and manual training, elementary cooking and gardening, the fundamentals of plumbing, papering and painting."

Baby Clinic in January, at which the members of the Institute assisted. They can already see what a great change has been made for the best by the work of the Health Unit.

"And now the members are inquiring into health insurance and studying the booklet, and the meeting voted to write to the Department of Health asking them of the support of the Women's Institute for the Nurse Dunn, M.B.E., public health nurse, has been a great help, and the whole district speaks highly of her. "So much we could do, but seems hard to raise funds this winter, as it is so cold that no one turns out, but we will try and do better later on."

Rolla is in the Peace River district, about fifteen miles from the end of the railway at Pouce Coupe.

Pay Tribute To Father Damien

Catholic Women's League Learns of Honor Accorded Remains in South

Mrs. Blair Reid presided at the March meeting of Victoria subdivision Catholic Women's League last evening.

Members were deeply interested in examining a programme of ceremonies held in San Francisco in connection with the reception there of the body of Father Damien, apostle to the lepers of Molokai, and which listed the liturgical functions at Fort Mason and Saint Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco. The remains of Father Damien are being transferred from Hawaii to Belgium at the request of the King of the Belgians, and with the consent of the ecclesiastical authorities.

Saint Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, was privileged to receive the body of Father Damien and honor him during his lying in state from Monday, February 10, until Friday, February 14. During this time requiem high mass was sung, the Office of the Dead chanted, a special children's mass celebrated and a most impressive liturgical reception accorded this arrival, and an equally impressive escort to Fort Mason on the departure of the body from San Francisco.

REPORTS GIVEN
A good deal of correspondence was reported by Miss Viva Baddington at the meeting. Miss Madeline Clay, recording secretary, and Mrs. McDonough gave the usual reports as secretary and treasurer. On April 11, Holy Saturday, a sale of home cooking will be held in the basement of Spencer's, convened by Mrs. Beneman, and Mrs. S. Hunter will convene a card party at Spencer's later in the month. A special social for members of Victoria subdivision will be held Easter Monday, April 13, in the K. of C. Hall.

Plans were discussed for the annual spring fete in aid of St. Louis College, to be held on May 14 in the K. of C. Hall, with afternoon tea, cards, sale of home cooking and candy, and cards and games in the evening.

Mrs. Betty and Mrs. Gill will conduct the apron stall. Mrs. Blair Reid will constitute a committee to receive visitors to Victoria.

Hospital visiting for the past month was sponsored by Mrs. Beneman, St. Joseph's and Vernon Hill; Mrs. Hartnell and Mrs. Reid for the Jubilee, and during March these offices will be filled by Mrs. M. E. O'Neill and Mrs. J. D. Kistner at St. Joseph's, and Mrs. Hartnell and Mrs. Blair Reid at the Jubilee. The remaining committee, reported for by Mrs. O'Brien, accounted for eighty-five names on the list during the past few weeks.

In preparation for the annual meeting in April Mrs. McManus, Miss Madeline Clay and Mrs. Ebbes-Cavanagh were appointed a nominating committee.

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. held a business meeting on Monday evening. Stanley Hawkins was a visitor to the branch, and gave a very interesting talk on the principles and objectives of A.Y.P.A. work.

The last fellowship hour of the season will be held on Sunday next after evensong, when Rev. E. Robotham of Chemainus will be the speaker. The meeting for next week was cancelled. Instead, members will attend St. Mark's amateur night. All those wishing to attend will meet at the bus depot at 7:25 o'clock.

RAINBOW ICE FORMS THRONE

Glittering Seat Awaits Queen of Alaska to Be Chosen Tonight

Associated Press
Fairbanks, Alaska, March 5.—A rainbow throne of glittering ice awaited today the coronation of the queen of Alaska from the territory's fairest women.

Miss Alaska of 1936 will be elected tonight from five beauty queens selected from contests in five cities. The winner will rule over the three-day annual ice carnival and dog derby opening tomorrow.

Sixteen mushers have entered dog teams in the $1,000 thirty-mile derby. Pietro Vison, artist and sculptor, said the queen's throne will be one of the most remarkable chairs of state ever "frozen."

The throne is made from a huge frame of timber, covered with burlap. Tinted water sprayed on the burlap in "clouds" was left to freeze in 15 to 20 degrees below zero. The ice throne blended with every color of the rainbow, contrasting with the whiteness that surrounds this city to-day.

Beauty queens entered are: Miss Mary Joyce, Miss Juneau; Miss Charlotte Manning, Anchorage; Miss Virginia Berg, Palmer; Miss Carolyn Hagstrom, Nenana, and Miss Sigrid Seppala, Fairbanks.

Miss Joyce, twenty-seven, who left southeastern Alaska December 20, 1935, on a 1,000 mile dog-sled trek to Fairbanks, reached Tanana Crossing, 165 miles south of here, earlier in the week. She was delayed by heavy snows and cold.

From Tanana she may fly here today to arrive in time for the carnival. She then will return and complete her mush.

KRESGE'S DANCE MERRY SUCCESS

An excellent attendance was present yesterday evening at the first annual dance of Kresge's Sports Club held in the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street.

Len Acres' orchestra supplied many popular novelty numbers for the merry dance crowd, who enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Favors were distributed.

Lady's and gentlemen's wrist watches were given away. Miss Barrie Taylor won the lady's prize with number 634; Herbert Jenson won the man's watch with number 57. Roy Hills on the mouth organ and Scotty McBride, yodeller, displayed wonderful talent, and the crowd called for many encores.

DETHRONED DIRECTOR AND WIFE

The extemporaneous movie feud starring Mae West and Director Ernst Lubitch started out with lots of sound and ended up as a silent drama. Reports Show Fine Work Columbia Diocesan W.A.

Lady Lake, Re-elected President, in Annual Address Tells of Expected Visit of Dominion Board in Fall; Officers Report

Diocesan officers reports occupied the major part of the proceedings at this morning's session of the annual meeting of the Columbia Diocesan W.A. at the Memorial Hall. Rev. Alan Gardiner of St. Paul's Garrison Church, conducted the prayers and gave an inspiring devotional address.

Miss M. Henley, prayer partner secretary, gave a most encouraging report; Miss Dora Mott, as Living Message secretary, reported progress. Mrs. Alan Gardiner reported as educational secretary-treasurer, her report being followed by a most interesting discussion on the subject of "A Little Knowledge is a Dangerous Thing," in which many of the delegates took part.

Mrs. T. G. Greenway gave the report for the Church Embroidery Guild, showing much beautiful work accomplished, and Mrs. F. E. L. Philip reported for the Columbia Coast Sewing Society. All the reports were enthusiastically received, and the officers thanked for their fine work. Mrs. W. H. Beeson conducted the devotional exercises at the midday adjournment.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The special attraction at yesterday afternoon's session, which drew a greatly enlarged audience, was the address of the diocesan president, Lady Lake, who has been re-elected to that office. She made a touching reference to the new King, and whose speech over the radio last Sunday was of deep significance and value. "He has our prayers and our devoted allegiance. May we indeed be worthy of the heritage which is ours," she said.

The president also remarked that the past year had brought not only a new King, but a new primate, a new Dominion president and a new bishop-coadjutor, and asked Divine blessing on all who are thus taking up new responsibilities.

It will be the privilege of Columbia diocesan officers to entertain the Dominion board during the fall, and if it is possible for some of the Dominion officers to visit the up-land branches, the board hopes that the privilege will be shared by members unable to get to Victoria at that time, Lady Lake said.

The meeting signified the approval of the address by a standing vote, while Mrs. F. C. Nivn, first vice-president, presented a bouquet of flowers to Lady Lake, who expressed her appreciation in her usual charming manner.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Mrs. C. S. Quainton, honorary vice-president, read prayers at the opening of the afternoon session at which the treasurer's statements were brought in in printed form, and fully explained by Mrs. J. H. Hartley, who was complimented by both Mrs. F. C. Chapman and Miss Pheop on her excellent work, and also on the very moderate cost of administration.

A tribute was also paid to Miss B. Doreas secretary, following the giving of her really splendid report of the Doreas work for the year, both Miss Oldfield and Mrs. Brimer voicing appreciation of her system and indefatigable work.

The "extra cents" report was brought in by Miss E. Gwynne, who showed the various ways in which the useful fund is put, including a monthly contribution to social service and the Sunday school by-post.

AIDS PENSION FUND

The united thanksgiving offering amounted to $555.46, and is used for training missionaries, and for the pension fund which the Dominion board is building up for the benefit of retired missionaries.

The meeting approved the constitution for girls' branches brought in by the girls' secretary, Mrs. Wilfred Hartley, also the three resolutions of which the branches were given notice in the February bulletin.

To-night at 7:30 Miss Pheop will give an address on "The Joy of Service," and colored lantern slides will be shown by Mrs. Brimer. All W.A. members, delegates and visitors are invited to join the informal gathering and refreshments.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. H. M. Bolton will give the address. This will be followed by routine business, and the presentation of reports on Little Helpers and Social Service. Mrs. Barber-Starkey will lead a discussion on social service. At 1:15 there will be a president's conference.

GUILDS BOYCOTT FILM BANQUET

Academy of Motion Picture Arts Described as "Company Union"

Hollywood, Calif., March 5.—Two dominant guilds, screen actors and screen writers, have boycotted the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences today as a "company union" and boycotted its annual awards banquet tonight.

More than 1,200 reservations for the banquet—a major event of the film year—had been made when the guilds telegraphed their membership of 5,500 actors and 9,000 writers last night not to attend.

Despite the opposition, Donald Gledhill, executive secretary of the academy, said plans to award statuettes for best performances, best direction and general picture excellence would be carried out tonight.

Ernest Pascal, president of the Writers' Guild, declared "we consider the academy a company union with nothing in common with the guild. We believe our members should have nothing to do with it under any circumstances."

Pascal estimated that the academy's membership of 1,000 included only about thirty-eight actors and twenty-eight writers.

Robert Montgomery, president of the Actors' Guild, said the academy is not representative of the industry as it is advertised to be.

Holds Shower In Honor of Her Cat

Associated Press
Seattle, March 5.—Agnes Colvin gave a "shower" for her black cat, Gin Pix, an expectant mother yesterday at the Hotel Gowman.

Fourteen friends of the Colvin family attended. The cat looked furiously at a wooden shoe figure, but had a high time with a catnip mouse. Other gifts included rubber mice, rubber balls and a basket of flowers.

Newspaper Publisher's Widow Leaves Huge Bequest For Journalism

Boston, March 5.—What is believed will turn out to be one of the largest private bequests ever received by Harvard University was disclosed by university officials in a statement that the will of Mrs. Agnes Wahl Neiman, widow of the founder of the Milwaukee, Wis., Journal, has been filed in probate court here with a bequest to Harvard "in excess of one million dollars."

The fund is to be known as the Lucius W. Neiman and Agnes Wahl Neiman Fund, and goes to the president and fellows of Harvard College, to be invested. The income is to be used "to promote and elevate the standards of journalism in the United States and educate persons deemed especially qualified for journalism."

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRD

MR. ELDRD INDICATES RATE AT WHICH BABY SHOULD GAIN

The pride and delight with which the mother views the forward swing of the pointer indicating baby's gain in weight, are understandable emotions. Everything the mother does for the baby is nullified if the weight stays stationary or falls and so it is little wonder that the mother's peace of mind demands that the pointer advance.

The weekly weighing ceremony in addition to being a joy or a keen disappointment gives an accurate picture of baby's momentary well being. To compare the baby's gains in weight with the amount of food he is receiving, or to check it against a loss of weight, is to have a significant index of what may need change and correction.

AVOID OVERFEEDING

My leaflet, "Average Weights and Heights Up to Ten Years," will help the parent to get an idea of how her baby is progressing. The leaflet may be had for a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

Enormous gains in weight are to be viewed with some misgiving, as overfeeding is no more desirable an estate than underfeeding—though few mothers will believe that. But, for the baby to fail to gain, is a signal which indicates as a rule but one of two things, the wrong kind of nourishment, or just not enough nourishment.

RATES OF GAIN

Babies gain the first six months about five to eight ounces a week. Weights need be taken just once weekly. The average each week, if weighing is done at the same hour and with baby completely nude, will offer a stable, average gain.

The average monthly gain is about one and one-half to two pounds the first six months, one to one and one-half the second. This will result in the seven-pound-at-birth baby, weighing from twenty-one to twenty-four pounds at one year.

Tomorrow: Cradle cap may be caused by improper care of diet.

Lake Hill Women Receive Reports

The monthly meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute was held in the hall on Tuesday, Mrs. J. Findlay presiding. The child welfare convener, Mrs. T. Currie, reported arranging for a child to be admitted to the Solarium, and also gave an interesting account of her attendance at the annual meeting of the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Four delegates, comprising Mrs. Findlay, Mrs. Currie, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Bavers, attended the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women recently, and comprehensive reports of it were read.

Following a talk on adult education, it was decided to form a study group and communicate with the University of British Columbia extension committee.

Arrangements were made for a wood bee on March 25 and members are asked to please attend. A daffodil tea will be held in April. Various versions of "What the Institute Means to Me" were given by each member, but all agreed that it allows of the formation of friendship and sociability and being a member has had a helpful influence, not only on the individual, but also on the community as a whole.

Next month the members will answer the roll call by giving a short verse of poetry or song or a favorite recipe.

Mrs. Otley and Mrs. M. Bowers were hostesses at the tea hour.

Water slowly rising behind the dam eventually will come almost to the observation platforms on the intake towers seen at the left.

MISSION WORK IN DANGER NOW

Dwindling Finances Threaten Discontinuance of United Church Work in Orient

The United Church missionary cause in Korea and Manchuria faces discontinuance through lack of funds, and once missionaries withdraw they will be unable to return in view of the fact they will have lost the faith of the natives, F. M. Black, Vancouver, informed a gathering in the First United Church Sunday School yesterday evening.

His remarks were made in the course of an illustrated lecture during which Mr. Black showed three reels of film taken during a visit to those countries by himself and Mrs. Black to see their son, Dr. Ronald M. Black, and his family at Lingchingtsun, Manchuria.

Contributions were vitally needed to continue the work, Mr. Black said. On his trip he covered 5,700 miles through Korea and Manchuria, extending his visit over a period of three months.

SUCCESSFUL WORK

He told his hearers of the successful fight being staged by missionaries to give the natives of those countries a new physical freedom and a wider spiritual life.

Schools for boys and girls had been erected in many sections and many more were under construction, Mr. Black said, as he projected scenes on the screen to show them.

He was warm in his commendation of the work done by medical missionaries and in missionary hospitals.

The influence of Japan on Korea and Manchuria was evident throughout those sections, the speaker said, remarking the Japanese "have their fingers on the windpipes of those two countries."

The Japanese fear of Russian spies caused the former to throw many people into jail without a hearing and the Nippons were constantly on the alert for secret agents from the Soviet, he said.

Cathedral Grove "Must Be Saved"

Comox Member Says Government Will Have to Move Off the Island if Cameron Lake Timber Stand Is Cut

A stern warning to the government that it must save the Cathedral Grove timber stand at Cameron Lake from the loggers' axe was issued in the Legislature yesterday by L. Arnold Hanna, Liberal, Comox.

"It has got to be saved," he said. "There's no other way out. It's a beautiful and magnificent stand of timber—the only place in the province where you can drive through virgin Douglas fir and see it."

"If it was cut down, the land would be worse than any graveyard you ever saw. And if the government does permit it to be cut, it might just as well close the Parliament Buildings and move off the island. There would be a howl impossible to stop," he added.

Old Colwood Hotel Is Being Razed

A landmark on the Island Highway for nearly a half century, the old Colwood Hotel, situated at the intersection of the highway, leading to Metchoon and Langford, is now being razed. The work of demolition was started by the wreckers yesterday.

At the rear of the old hotel a modern Tudor-designed hotel, built for George T. Quincey, takes the place of the old structure.

The proprietor plans to improve the site of the hotel, which will be transferred during the summer. A semi-circular driveway will lead to the main entrance of the new Colwood Hotel and lawns and flower beds will be planted to improve the approach.

Later Mr. Quincey proposes to erect a port cocher over the driveway entrance and further improvements will be carried out to the property.

CONVENTION OF PARTY URGED

G. M. Murray Tells Ward Five Liberals Early Meeting Should Be Called

The great mass of Liberal opinion is calling for a convention of the party, George M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, said in an address to Ward Five Liberal Association. Such a meeting should be held as early as possible, Mr. Murray said.

He criticized the government for failure to hasten the by-elections in Omineca and Burrard, saying they affected one-tenth of the population of the province. Delay would only be harmful to the good name of the Liberal party.

Mr. Murray thought there should be an investigation of the P.G.E. Railway from the standpoint of the debt burden now carried for it. It had now nearly cost the $80,000,000, which is now cited as its capital indebtedness. This, he said, was ridiculous, gouging the people.

He told of mining progress in the constituency, the Cariboo and Bridge River. The miners were receiving good wages, and he firmly believed the men should receive a reasonable share of what they produced.

Mr. Murray had praise for the administrative actions of the government in its departments, and called Premier Pattullo one of the best administrators the province has ever had. However, he added, the times called for team work and not individual effort. A leader must work and consult with his people.

W. H. Kingston moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Murray.

AUDIENCE DANCES

An enjoyable dance followed the address, over 100 dancing to the music provided by Mrs. Bertocci's Melodians. For those who did not dance progressive whist was played and the following won the prizes: Ladies' first, Mrs. Hampton; gentlemen's first, J. Mossey. The tombola prize was won by Mrs. R. Sims. Refreshments were served at 10:30 o'clock, under the supervision of Mrs. R. Sims, Mrs. Baines, Mrs. A. S. Atkins and Godfrey Smith. W. H. Coates had charge of the cards and R. Jenkins was master of ceremonies.

SCHOOL WORK IS INSPECTED

Grounds Developments Noted During Tour By School Board Committee

Progress on work started last year and extension of various projects was noted by members of the city school board's building and grounds committee during a tour of schools yesterday afternoon.

The visit to the schools was made by Trustee Percy George, chairman of the building and grounds committee; Trustee Charles E. Bishop, Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee, and Major R. O. Hinton.

Artistic improvements at Sir James Douglas School were noted by the group before it continued to Victoria High School where a small stone wall is being placed around the top of the ramp leading to the new playing field on the north. Bicycle racks are being moved there to give the school basement more light.

At Oaklands, work has been started on the new auditorium. At Quadra the football field is nearly ready for seeding and drainage is being installed along Fifth Street. A hard surface tennis court will be installed.

Extensive expansion of the Burnside playing field is proceeding well and a rockery will be made in a series of terraces to improve the appearance of the grounds.

At Victoria West development includes enlargement of the football field, creation of a grass hockey pitch and establishment of basketball

SAANICH BOARD OF TRADE MEETS

Keating, March 5—Saanich Board of Trade held its regular meeting at the Women's Institute Hall, Brentwood, on Monday night, W. O. Wallace presiding. Directors for the year were nominated to be voted on next meeting. A committee was appointed to arrange with the Home Oil Company to show its historical moving pictures some time in March at Brentwood at the Women's Institute Hall. A resolution from the Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange was endorsed, urging the Dominion Government to arrange for an earlier return of the sugar rebate on canned loganberries, which is equal to 50 per cent of the net returns to growers, thus causing an additional burden for producers to carry.

Another resolution endorsed was one to the Provincial Government suggesting that a red reflector be placed on the curve signs on the East Saanich Road at the place known as Little's Tearoom. This is a dangerous curve and is divided by a white railing in the centre of the road, which is difficult to see on wet or foggy nights.

Reeve Crouch proposed plans for a movement to aid the Saanich Welfare Association finances this summer, and a committee was appointed to deal with the proposal. The next meeting of the board will be held in April.

NEW SEARCH FOR OIL IN ALBERTA

Calgary, March 5—A search for oil will be made in Athabasca, Northern Alberta, by a syndicate headed by Alfred Hinds, former president of the Merland Oil Company, it has been learned here.

The syndicate has been granted permits on 20,000 acres of lands in the Athabasca district, according to an announcement made in Edmonton by Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines.

A drilling programme is planned and during the summer tests will be carried out.

High Hat Hitch HIKER HAS CHANCE

Hollywood, March 5.—If he wears a bathing cap, opera hat, spats, and carries a cane, he may be a misguided pursuer of male fashions who has found the going confusing. He may be slightly insane. But probably he is just a hitch hiker who has followed the Carradine formula.

John Carradine, lately of Greenwich Village, whose mail has for some time been forwarded to Twentieth Century-Fox studios, where he was featured in "The Prisoner of Shark Island," declares that the ensemble indicated is a sure-fire winner for one who undertakes to thumb his way over considerable distances.

Carradine, who hitch-hiked to Hollywood when the scenery painting business lost its charm and he decided to become a screen actor, discusses the thumb-ride technique with the air of a man who knows whereof he speaks. And a transcontinental free ride is perhaps some evidence of expertise.

"You've no idea how quickly a motorist will stop if you are properly garbed and thumb in the proper manner," he explained.

"Walking ahead of the car, as one necessarily does, one depends upon the effect of the opera hat, stick and spats to create the initial favorable impression. Then, at the psychological moment, when the muffled exhaust indicates that the driver is slowing down to take a good look, the idea is to turn toward the approaching car, lean negligently upon the stick, and thumb in a haughty manner such as wrestlers use when gouging opponent's eyes."

Carradine waved aside the suggestion that selling the opera hat, stick and spats, and purchasing a bus ticket might have made eventual arrival at the goal more certain.

"What would I have left to impress the motion picture producers?" he asked.

Though hitch-hiker Carradine arrived at the film capital with finances at a low ebb, he found fortune's smile prompt and warm. Steadily employed in parts of increasing importance, he was awarded a featured role in "The Prisoner of Shark Island," shortly to be released by Twentieth Century-Fox, after a lesser role in "Captain January," Shirley Temple's latest picture.

Scarcely had the first rushes been viewed, when he was awarded a long term contract, and at present is at work in "Under Two Flags," in which Ronald Colman, Claudette Colbert and Victor McLaglen have leading roles.

Carradine's dramatic training included considerable experience in little theatres, and the Pasadena Community Theatre's stage gave him valuable opportunity after he had begun to work in pictures.

In July, 1935, England had 13,833 American and 11,637 French visitors.

Local Oarsmen Looking Forward To Big Season This Year

THE SPORTS MIRROR

BEFORE THE DOMINOES and Vancouver Province meet at the High School gym on March 13 in the first game of the best three-out-of-five for the British Columbia senior men's basketball championship, there is a lot of arguing over referees for the finals. The Province want one thing and the Dominions another, and right now neither side appears ready to concede anything to the other. The problem of referees for these B.C. series has been a tough one the last three or four seasons. The procedure is for the referee from each city to officiate, but it takes the teams plenty of time before they reach an agreement on officials. One whistle-blower suits one team and the other and back and forth the argument swings.

First move of the Province in this year's squabble was to seek the agreement of the Dominions to two Wellington referees handling the finals. The mainland team wanted the same two men to work that officiated in the Inter-city League final between them and the New Westminster Adams. The Dominions promptly said no. The local team can hold out for ever on that deal as it is against the constitution of the B.C. Basketball Association for outside referees to work in the provincial series. The Dominions want Tommy Macdonald and a Vancouver referee to officiate. But the hitch in that arrangement appears to be the fact that Wally Stipe and Bob Macmurchie, two other Victoria referees, rate higher than Macdonald, following the A floor tests held here recently. Yet Stipe and Macmurchie have not had the experience necessary to handle such an important playoff. The two highest rating Vancouver referees are Ralph Thomas and Alf Perrin, and they are among the group of refs recently suspended by the Inter-city League for going on strike. That's the situation and it looks like it will take a lot of straightening out.

Because business conditions were adverse, and because doctors told him that he must give up city life in Reno, Nev., and work in the open air, if he wanted to live, Albert Anthony Baroni is $211,000 richer than he was two years ago last October, and will on the way to becoming one of the biggest names in horse racing.

The reason for his increased wealth and growing prestige in the sport is a former $3,500 player. Top Row, which since October, 1934, has won more than $200,000 for Baroni, is making his first start by annexing the recent Santa Anita Handicap and $100,000.

Baroni took the son of Peanuts and Too High out of a claiming race at Narragansett Park for $3,500, and no one else, it seems, recognized the ability of the horse bred by Mrs. W. Plunkett Stewart, New York society woman and wife of the mineral water magnate.

George Odum, trainer of the Stewart stable, at a dinner party, let the cat out of the bag regarding Top Row's ability. Consequently, after Baroni had seen him run, he claimed the horse, and Odum hasn't spoken to the Nevada Greek since.

Baroni bought his first horse from George Wingfield, founder of the famous Nevada Stock Farm, near Reno. That horse, Dan Hogan, was a failure. Not until he had Gross Row, killed in Washington by a bolt of lightning, and later Wirt F. Bowman, did Baroni have a couple of good horses.

These were followed by Waylaver, and then the ill-starred Nellie A, which had to be destroyed because of leg injuries.

Top Row really is the first class A thoroughbred that Baroni owned. He believed in him. He told everyone that the five-year-old would take it all. And the son of Peanuts proved that the faith his owner put in him was not misplaced.

There was some talk that Jockey Wayne Wright, up on the Baroni horse, fouled in the Santa Anita classic. It is known that he did serve in front of Time Supply, causing a jam on the rail between the two horses and Rosemont, the show horse.

Top Row is a notorious lugger. In his first race in the Baroni stables, he was disqualified for bothering Lady Leigh in the $5,000 What Cheer Handicap at Narragansett. In the San Juan Capistrano Handicap at Santa Anita a year ago, he tried to do the same thing to Head Play.

But, as Dr. Charles Strub, general

Acquisition of New Eight Will Boost Interest

Shell to Arrive in City on May 2; Invitations Received For Races

MEETING TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Revived interest in this year's sports is confidently expected this season by officials of Victoria's pioneer rowing club, the James Bay Athletic Association, with the acquisition of an eight-oared shell the crew of which will race in several invitational regattas when the summer rolls around.

The shell, being completed this week in Seattle by Pocock, builder for universities of the Pacific Northwest, will be delivered in Victoria on May 2, and will be ready for use immediately following that date.

Competition for position in the big boat should lend added popularity to rowing here. In previous years during the last two or three years, Victorians have rowed with considerable success in borrowed eights in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland. With the additional fitness the crew will gain from regular workouts this season the local eight should make an even more impressive showing.

It was learned today the club would go after heavy huskies with a yen to row in an effort to build up the power in the new shell, the first of its kind owned by the local group WORK ON BOATS.

Work on the fours, doubles and singles will get underway during the latter part of this month and the boys will go down to the Gorge in lapstreaks for preliminary workouts prior to April 1.

Dan Moses, who made a particularly good job of coaching last year, will be in charge of the summer training. He should have a good fund of material from which to pick his chosen crew.

The crew which won the junior and senior N.P.A.A.O. four titles last year will be intact for 1936, it was learned today. The quartet includes Don Davis, Jim Temple, Jack McDonald and Max Winkler.

Among the scullers Hugh Francis, Arnie Mann and Fred Parker, tactweight, will be back in harness, while Jimmy and Arnold Mann, N.P.A.A.O. junior champions last year, will probably face a stiff challenge from McDonald and Winkler, who are expected to develop into a particularly good pair this season.

NEW TALENT LINED UP
A considerable amount of new talent has been lined up for the year, and some men of particular merit will most likely be found in them to form good junior crews.

Several invitations have already been received by the local club for exhibitions out of town. In Portland the Victorians will race against the University of Oregon, and will probably meet the Washington Frosh in Seattle. Vancouver will furnish its usual opposition both here and over the Terminal City course.

The N.P.A.A.O. is listed this year for the mainland as part of Vancouver's jubilee celebrations. As usual Victoria will be well represented in the regatta.

Further details of the local programme for 1936 will be worked out at the rowing club's annual meeting in the Royal Trust Company's boardroom tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Raymond Jacks Are Defeated

Raymond, Alta., March 5.—Alberta's 1935 men's senior basketball champions, Raymond United Jacks, went down to defeat, 42 to 34, before Calgary Printers here yesterday evening in the first game of the provincial semi-finals. Second game of the semi-finals series will be played in Calgary on Friday.

JUVENILE SOCCER

Games scheduled Saturday in the Royal Juvenile Football League follow: Equinault West Market vs. Hill's Corner, Bullen Park, E. Borde referee. Wimpy's Capitula vs. Victoria West Cubs, Heywood Avenue, W. J. Call referee.

manager of the Los Angeles Turf Club, asserts: "There was $104,800 at stake in the Santa Anita classic, and the idea was for them to race for it."

Top Row, the money horse, and Wayne Wright, the money rider, did. And, as Baroni says, "Top Row had to be good to get up there."

Finals Billed At Nanaimo Friday

Three games that will decide island championships will be played in Nanaimo on Friday evening. It was announced today by Walker Yeomans, local council member of the Vancouver Island Basketball League.

The programme follows:
7 o'clock—St. Louis College vs. Nanaimo, intermediate B boys. First game resulted in a 44 to 33 win for Collegians.
8 o'clock—Kingsham-Gillespie vs. Nanaimo, intermediate A. Kingsham-Gillespie won first game 53 to 19.
9 o'clock—Units vs. Yacht Club, women's B fixture. Nanaimo won first game 38 to 37.

SUBSTITUTION MOVE IS MADE

British Columbia Rugby Officials Forward Proposal to Twickenham

Concessions towards the long sought practice of substitution were made by officials of rugby unions in British Columbia with the drafting of amendments to rules and introduction of new regulations which will be sent to Twickenham, England, for the consideration of the International Rugby Board.

The proposed changes, an outgrowth of consideration by referee boards in Victoria and Vancouver, have received the approval of the Victoria, Vancouver and British Columbia Rugby Unions, and will be forwarded to the headquarters of the International Rugby Board.

The suggested amendment covering substitution reads as follows: "That two substitutes be allowed up to the end of the first half only for legitimate injuries. Where a substitute is used the injured player shall be debarrued from all games for a period of two weeks, unless previously passed fit by medical certificate. The responsibility of making substitution shall rest with the captain of the team, and can be made any time during the first half."

Other proposed changes follow: "1. That the Law 172 governing offside, scrums and scrumming be amended to read as follows: 'A player is offside if while the ball is in a scrum, he is not in the scrum, and the scrum, remain with either foot in front of the line of feet of his front row forwards.'"

DEFINITION OF TACKLE
"2. That the definition of a tackle be amended to read as follows: 'When a player is in possession of the ball, he is held by the hands, arms or legs, or when a player is grasped and brought to the ground with the ball still in his possession, it shall constitute a tackle, except when a player and ball without contact slide over their opponent's goal line when a try must be awarded.'"

"3. That provision be made for the appointment of a timekeeper who shall be the sole judge of time. The timekeeper shall not be the referee or either of the touch judges."

"4. That a new power be inserted giving the referee the power to order a man off the field for the balance of a half, or balance of a game, as he decides, without the matter being reported to the union concerned for further action. This power would be intermediate between a penalty kick and the present rule concerning ordering a man off the field, and would be used in cases such as 'persistent infringement.'"

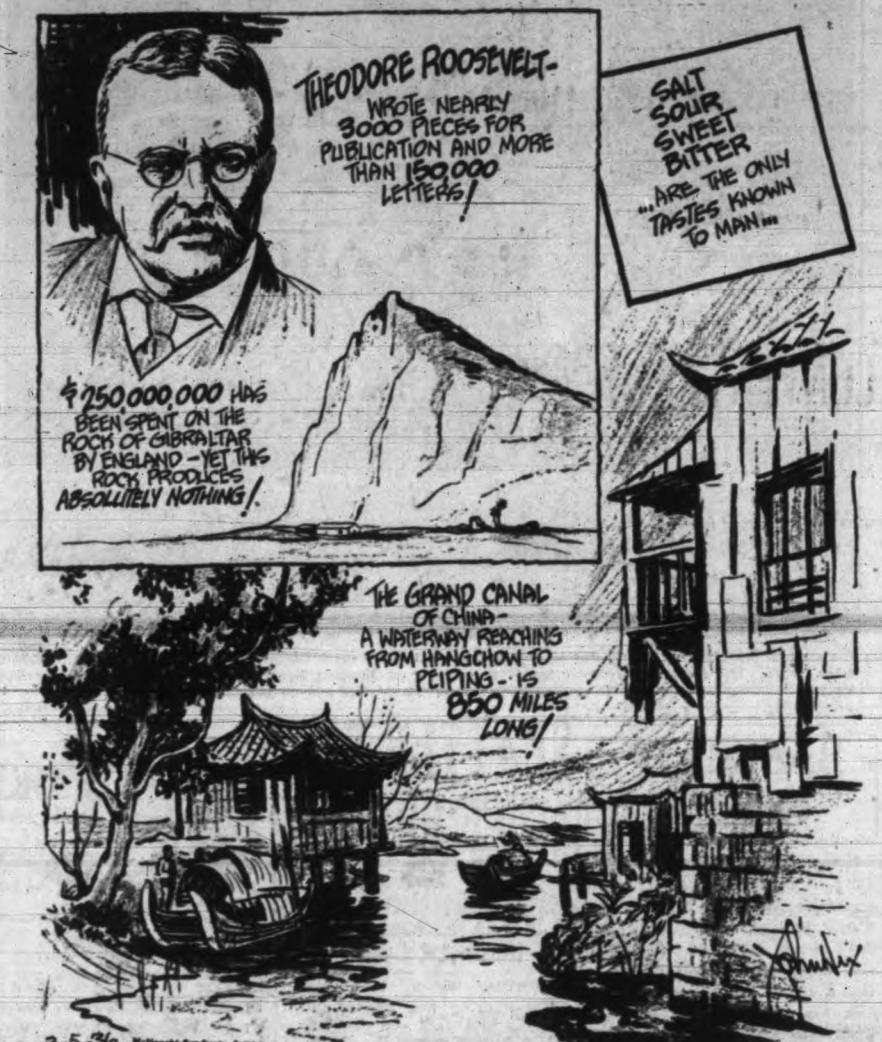

Sonja Henie May Join Pro Ranks

New York, March 5.—The Herald Tribune said yesterday that Sonja Henie, the Olympic and world figure skating champion, has decided to turn professional. The newspaper said she has accepted a Hollywood movie contract.

It was reported from Paris Wednesday that the peerless Norwegian skater had sailed for the United States, accompanied by her parents.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, there are only four tastes known to humans—for taste buds respond only to saltiness, sweetness, sourness and bitterness. All tastes, in the exact use of the term, are varying degrees or combinations of these. Most of the sensations of taste, as we generally call them, are really sensations of smell. The typical "tastes" of onions and apples, for example, are really smells—all they are odors. To a person who cannot smell, the apple and onion taste alike. The same is true with other foods—we smell them as we eat them. Some foods or flavors that are scientifically quite tasteless seem to be quite tasty because of their pleasant odor.

A complete list of Theodore Roosevelt's published works would include nearly 3,000 titles—among them the late President's various books, speeches, contributions to books, translations, and articles written for periodicals. Prolific as an author, Roosevelt was even more so as a letter writer—he is known to have written not less than 150,000 letters during his lifetime.

Unimportant except as a strategic stronghold at the entrance of the Mediterranean Sea, but very important in that respect, England's Rock of Gibraltar is her one colony that has been a source of wealth and power in material wealth. Gibraltar produces nothing of importance in agriculture or manufacture.

Manitoba won its fifth victory in six starts yesterday evening, defeating Nova Scotia, 14-9, while New Brunswick upset Ontario, 11-9. It was the second defeat for Ontario, showing Hec Cowan's Saranians into a second-place tie with British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

In other night matches, Saskatchewan defeated British Columbia 10-9, as Skip Les Youngson made a great draw with his last shot. Quebec handed Prince Edward Island a sixth consecutive defeat, 16-13, and Alberta turned aside northern Ontario, 9-3, on an extra end.

With three rounds of play billed for today, six of the ten starters will commence the final day with a chance to finish on top—Manitoba, New Brunswick, British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta and Saskatchewan. The others have no chance.

A rousing finish was put on yesterday evening by Saskatchewan at the expense of British Columbia. The Pacific Coast rink started the final end one up and seemed certain to get no worse than a tie, with a chance at an extra end, when Youngson put down his last shot.

VAN RYN-MANGIN IN SEMI-FINALS

New York, March 5.—Prospects for the 1936 Davis Cup went on display yesterday as doubles competition dominated the United States indoor-tennis programme.

Johnny Van Ryn, paired with Gregory Mangin, Newark, N.J., to advance to the semi-final round. The combination's first victims were New York boys, James Fishbach and Howard Stephens, who yielded 6-4, 6-3. Then they took the measure of Albert Law and Ray Palmer Jr., also of New York, 6-1, 6-4, in a match which fairly bristled with spectacular play.

D. McMillan refereed. The term follow: Spencers — Stewartson, Munroe, play.

B.C. Stars Win In National Tourney

Barney Ross To Leave For Coast

Chicago, March 5.—Barney Ross, world welterweight titleholder, will leave by airplane tonight for Vancouver, where he will tackle Gordon Wallace March 11, in his last test before invading Australia.

Ross will meet Wallace, Canadian 147-pound champion, in a ten-round non-title bout.

The welter king will sail for Sydney, Australia, early in April to defend his title, probably against Jeff Carroll, Australian star, some time in May.

OAK BAY IN HOCKEY WIN

Defeat Victoria High School Girls 7 to 2 in May Tully Shield Play

The Oak Bay High School girls' grass hockey eleven defeated the Victoria High School girls 7 to 2 in the second game of the May Tully series yesterday. The game was played on the Cranmore Road grounds.

Oak Bay had the better of the game and outclassed their opponents throughout. At half time Oak Bay lead 4 to 0.

The next game will be played in the near future and will be the deciding game. If the Victoria High School wins, the series will be tied and the winner will be decided by total points.

Rowena McNeely scored the first two goals for Oak Bay early in the first half, when she knocked the ball in from a mix up in front of the goal. Roseamand Turner scored the third goal in the middle of the half. The fourth goal for Oak Bay came just before half time, when Betty Shepherd sent the ball into the net.

THIRD COUNTER
Soon after the resumption of play Rowena McNeely drove home her third goal, which registered the fifth score for Oak Bay.

Five minutes after this Peggy Whyte scored the first goal for Victoria High.

Shelia Swift scored the sixth goal for Oak Bay and soon after Roseamand Turner scored the seventh and final counter.

Just before the final whistle Violet Waterworth scored the second tally for the Victoria girls.

Mrs. H. A. Tomalin and Miss B. Featherstone handled the game. The teams were as follows:

Oak Bay—Pat Fulton, Jane Arnsand, Nancy Pearson, Dorothy Stewart, Dorothy Cook, Grace Cook, Shelia Swift (captain), Betty Sheppard, Rowena McNeely, Anne Lyster and Roseamand Turner.

Victoria High — Eleanor Moffatt, Hazel Smith (captain), Ethyl Malcolm, Annie Brewis, Kay Gahan and Doris McEln, Lois Bell, Peggy Whyte, Violet Waterworth, Anne Peden and Kay Macdonald.

DAVIS OPPOSES JACK FORSGREN

Will Meet in Main Event on Weekly Mat Show Saturday at Tillicum Gym

"Wee Willie" Davis, lanky heavyweight wrestler from Norfolk, Virginia, who has become popular with local grappling fans on his previous appearances here, has been signed to meet Jack Forsgren, powerful Vancouver fireman, in the main event on the weekly wrestling show to be presented at the Tillicum gym Saturday evening. The card will start at 8.45 o'clock.

These two wrestlers, who have made names for themselves in other wrestling circles, no doubt will give each other some interesting moments. "Wee Willie" tops the scales at 260 pounds, while Forsgren weighs 250 pounds.

Efforts are now being made to secure Mayes McLain, former United States grid star, for the semi-windup. Pass will recall that Davis and McLain knocked each other out during a match here a few weeks ago. Local boys will meet in the preliminary bout.

Dick Birch, Jack Underhill, Margaret Taylor and Anna Kier Patrick Advance As Canadian Badminton Championships Open at Winnipeg

Winnipeg, March 5.—Through miles and miles of whistling shuttles a gallant band of swinging racquetiers emerged unscathed yesterday through early play in the Canadian badminton championships tournament. Current titleholders remained on the firing line when play today opened for the second day of the four-day tourney, but ranks of other favorites were thinned in spirited net duels.

Leading the parade of champions, Rod Phelan, Toronto, and Miss Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, rode the crest of a title-winning wave in the men's and women's singles events. Top-flight finalists of 1935 kept pace in three other events that will have their final Saturday night.

But despite the superior stroking of champions, a capable brigade-marched behind them. Seeded stars in each event displayed preliminary form equal to that of defending stylists with, perhaps, the possible exception of Margaret Taylor, Pacific Coast southpaw.

GRANT SHOWS WELL
A dark-complexioned youngster in the person of Douglas Grant matched performance with Toronto's smiling national champion, Phelan. His point drives in the preliminary stages of the men's singles appeared superior to those of the Ontario star. Neither, however, was extended beyond little more than a workout.

A tiny bundle of energy from British Columbia, Miss Taylor, appeared to hold the whip hand over her feminine mates. Her court performance approached the perfect stage. She appeared certain to reach the finals, closely pursued by the Robertson sisters from Ottawa, Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., Toronto, 1935 Finalist, and Anna Kier Patrick, Vancouver.

There were several upsets as singles moved through to the fourth-round stage, chief among them the elimination of Charlie Jones and Jimmy Proulx, leading Manitobans. In other events titleholders went ahead strongly with every likelihood they would escape trouble until semi-final stages were reached.

Only one round was played in the women's doubles event. The Robertson sisters of Ottawa, defending champions and seeded in the opposite half of the draw with Margery Barrow, Montreal, and Marguerite Delage, Quebec, drew byes. They are given the edge in preliminary rounds paced by a field of more than ordinary tournament calibre.

MEN'S SINGLES
First Round
Douglas Grant, Winnipeg, won from W. Cruikshanks, Brandon, 15-8, 15-1.

Second Round
R. E. Phelan, Toronto, won from George Wood, Winnipeg, 15-10, 15-9.

Mrs. C. G. Pitt, Winnipeg, won from Miss E. Snell, Ottawa, 12-13, 11-1, 11-5.

Miss R. Dupuis, Regina, won from Miss B. Fletcher, Winnipeg, 11-6, 7-11, 11-4.

Miss R. Robertson, Ottawa, won from Miss C. Ehnman, Regina, 11-3, 11-9.

Mrs. A. K. Patrick, Vancouver, won from Miss A. Garnett, Winnipeg, 11-7, 11-8.

Miss M. Robertson, Ottawa, won from Miss R. Auger, Port Arthur, 11-5, 11-1.

Miss Vera O'Shea, Vancouver, won (Turn to Page 13, Col. 2).

Motorcycle Club Announces Major Competitions For Summer

Reliability Test On April 12 Will Be Initial Event

Trial Over Tough 100-Mile
Course Will Be For Kirk
Trophy

Hold Endurance Run Up-island

A reliability trial on Sunday, April 12, will mark the opening of the competition season of the Victoria Motorcycle Club. It was announced today by Bob Shanks.

Fifteen to twenty members are expected to go on the jaunt which will be an all-day affair, over an approximate distance of 100 miles. The route will be over back roads and trails washed out by winter weather.

A committee headed by Reg Williams is looking after the event and will arrange the starting time, route and the rules. Williams is the official local referee of the American Motorcycle Association.

The trophy at stake will be the Kirk Challenge Cup. Reg Shanks will be the defending champion.

OTHER EVENTS

The club has an active year ahead of them and will stage at least five other events in addition to the Easter test. Competitions arranged follow: All-night endurance run to an up-island point and return; annual hill climb at Mount Douglas; Brentwood reliability trial; summer gypsy tour and road show at Nanaimo.

The club is planning to attend in a body the Pacific Northwest rally, which brings together all motorcycle clubs in the Pacific Northwest, to be held at Long Beach, Washington, in August. The local club will compete for awards in speed, club relay and stunt competitions. They are confident on bringing back some of the trophies.

Last year the club won first honors in the last quarter judging as the most active and progressive club on the North American continent, and placed fifth throughout the whole year. This was a splendid showing as the local club only has a membership of thirty-five and competes for these honors against clubs with a hundred or more in their membership.

Ireland Selects Football Eleven

Belfast, March 5.—Three Belfast Celtic players and two each from Everton and Hibernians have been included in the eleven selected to represent Ireland against Wales in an international soccer match on March 11. The match will be the third in the series for Ireland.

England was victorious against the Irish here on October 19, winning 3 to 1, and Scotland "stained a 2 to 1 decision at Edinburgh a month later. The team to play against Wales follows:

Goal, Scott (Belfast Celtic); full-backs, Cook (Everton), Fulton (Belfast Celtic); half-backs, Gowdy (Hibernians), Jones (Hibernians), Brown (Leeds United); forwards, Kernaghan (Belfast Celtic), Stevenson (Everton), Bambrick (Chelsea), Doherty (Manchester City), Kelly (Derry City).

Buxton Replaces Pete Turgoose

Ken Buxton, of the Garrison, will replace Pete Turgoose of the Bays-Wanderers, on the wing, three-quarter position of the local rep line-up, in the McKee Cup final to be played in Vancouver on Saturday at Brockton Point. Turgoose will be unable to play owing to illness.

DON MEADE SUSPENDED

Crack Rider For E. R. Bradley
Set Down at Hialeah; Career Threatened

Miami, Fla., March 5.—Don Meade's future status as a jockey was placed in jeopardy yesterday when the twenty-two-year-old contract rider for E. R. Bradley was suspended for the remainder of the Hialeah Park meeting, which closes Monday.

The ruling, handed down by the stewards and passed on to the Florida Racing Commission for further action, called for only five days on the grounds. It was intimated, however, that Meade's career in the saddle might be ended. His suspension was charged with "unsatisfactory riding and violation of the rules of racing."

The stewards refused to amplify their ruling, stating any further information must come from the commission. Walter Donovan, secretary of the commission, said he had no comment to make, as he had not received the stewards' report. Meade also refused to discuss the matter.

Meade, the leading rider at Hialeah with thirty winners, was scheduled to ride seven horses yesterday. The stewards forced him to cancel his engagements.

Considered a great money rider, Meade first came into prominence three years ago when he rode Bradley's Broker Tip to a disputed victory over Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Head Play in the Kentucky Derby. In a bitter stretch duel, he and Herbie Fisher of Toronto, up on Head Play, engaged in almost everything except actually coming to blows. Both jockeys were suspended for ten days at the time.

VICTORS IN NEW YORK SIX-DAY BIKE RACE

The current sensation of the six-day bicycle racing sport is the crack German team of Gustav Kilian, left, and Heinz Vogel. The Europeans recently won the six-day at Madison Square Garden for their fifth straight victory. It marked their second consecutive win on the Gotham track.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Pensacola, Fla.—Dick Coffman, the American League castoff, may prove a valuable addition to the New York Giants' pitching staff, when Bill Terry signed him up, he admitted it was merely that he was willing to take a chance but this spring Coffman has shown enough that the Giants' coaches believe he will stick.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Frank Crosetti, one of the New York Yankees' dollar-a-year men, probably will be offered a regular contract before he has spent much time in camp. He has given every indication he had fully recovered from the leg injury.

Lakeland, Fla.—"Casey at the bat" seems to be potent inspiration for Al Simmons and Elden Auker of the Detroit Tigers. They tried reciting parts of the poem en route to the plate yesterday. Al got a home run, double and single in four times up and Auker walked two homers on successive trips to the plate.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Walley Berger, the Boston Bees' leading holdout, wired he would be on hand Friday but President Bob Quinn issued an ultimatum he was not to get a uniform until he signed the contract, originally offered. "I still insist he is the highest paid outfielder in the league and he is being given a fair deal," Quinn said.

Avalon, Calif.—With Walter Stephenson showing exceptional improvement, Manager Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs is almost gloating over his catching staff. Gabby Hartnett, the National League's most valuable player last year, heads the list with Ken O'Dea and Stephenson, whose temper almost cost him his job last season, fighting for the other job.

Pasadena, Calif.—If and when Zeke Bonura, the holdout Chicago White Sox first baseman, comes to terms he is likely to have plenty of competition for his job. Mule Haas and Rip Radcliff, outfielders, and Manager Jimmy Dykes have been drilling at the position and all have shown they can handle it if necessary.

San Antonio, Tex.—Although the San Antonio Pirates have a brother act in camp, Big Jim Weaver, the pitcher, brought his twenty-year-old brother Myron up from Fulton, Ky., for a tryout.

Orlando, Fla.—There is a tinge of tragedy in the Washington Senators' camp when Ossie Blugie coaches rookie John Lewis at playing third base. After ten years of fine playing, Ossie realizes he has begun to slip at bat and has begun running but he still prides Lewis and spends his time showing the youngster the tricks of the position.

Miami, Fla.—Dizzy Dean and his unexpected arrival at Bradenton were the St. Louis Cardinals main topic of conversation as they bussed over to take the boat for Cuba yesterday evening. Most of the Cards seemed to think "Old Doc" had begun to weaken on his $40,000 demand but President Sam Breadon merely said he had "other matters on his mind."

SEATTLE IN ICE VICTORY

Defeat Edmonton Eskimos
4 to 1 to Increase Lead in Northwest League

Seattle, March 4.—Seattle's high-stepping Sea Hawks were sitting high atop the Northwest Hockey League standings today and only two teams, the Portland Buckaroos and the Edmonton Eskimos had a mathematical chance of beating them to the flag.

Yesterday evening the Hawks scored their talons on the Edmonton squad here for a 4 to 1 victory to increase their point lead to six above the second-place Portland Buckaroos.

The Edmonton Eskimos, with four games left to play, still had a mathematical chance of coming out on top of the heap, as did the Portland Buckaroos who still have three battles to wage before the season ends and the play-offs begin.

Peaches Lyon opened the scoring for the Hawks in the first period on a double pass and Johnny Houbregts added another in the next session on a free shot.

McADAM SCORES

The Hawks' high-scoring combination of Sammy McAdam and Hal Tabor got together at the start of the last period and banged in Seattle's third goal after three minutes of play with McAdam doing the firing. Tabor went down alone a few minutes later for the final Hawks score.

Edmonton's only goal came when Tony Townsend gathered in a pass from Hank Dyck late in the period. Referee Bernie Morris awarded three free shots during the game, two to Seattle and one to Edmonton. Lineups follow:

Edmonton—McQuaker; Townsend, Pridham; Holmes; Whittles; Dyck. Subs: Carrier, Kunzman, Rilmstad, L'Arin.

Seattle—Venne; D. Gilbooly; Houbregts; McAdam; Tabor; Lyon; Sub: J. Sheppard; W. Gilbooly; LaFrance; Mullen.

Officials—Bernie Morris; Seattle; Pete Sande, Calgary.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Seattle, Lyon (D. Gilbooly, McAdam), 3/4. Penalties: Holmes, Tabor, Houbregts.

Second period—3, Seattle, Houbregts (free shot), 15/27. Penalties: Houbregts, Kunzman, B. Gilbooly.

Third period—3, Seattle, McAdam (Tabor), 3/2; 4, Seattle, Tabor, 8/43; 5, Edmonton, Townsend (Dyck), 1/45. Penalties: Mullen.

Tanforan Racing Starts Saturday

San Francisco, March 5.—Blekulus and Tick On headed twenty-one nominations yesterday for the $2,000 added inaugural handicap which will feature Saturday's programme opening with the twenty-five-day racing meet at Tanforan track. It will be a six furlongs sprint.

The nominations include: Riskulus, Tick On, Dark Winter, Fort Springs, Indian Broom, Special Agent, Lady Bowman, Cloud D'or, Barcarolle, Manner's Man, Clean Out, Campillo, Ebony Lady, The Balliff, Veloce, Nuba, Budding Star, Evangelist, Easily Sailing, Our Meet and Open Range.

U.S. Hockey Team Refuses to Play

London, March 5.—The United States Olympic ice hockey team caused a sensation yesterday evening by refusing to play a scheduled exhibition game with an all-star team at Earl's Court because four of the all-star players had been suspended by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The match was called off an hour before it was scheduled to start.

BOSTON WILL PLAY CHICAGO

Bruins Can Hurdle New York
Rangers in N.H.L. By Victory Tonight

Idle Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers can do nothing but fidget tonight, their rivals for play-off spots in the National Hockey League play important games in the tense struggle for the two play-off berths in third place of both Canadian and American divisions.

"Red" Dutton would be relieved a lot if his Americans can beat Detroit Red Wings tonight and stretch their margin over Montreal Canadiens to three points. Americans have the advantage of home ice. A loss spells gloom, for Canadians would have a game in hand with seven games left on their schedule in which to overcome Americans' one-point lead.

In the American division, Rangers are in an even more precarious condition, Boston Bruins, by beating Hawks in Chicago tonight, can overcome the Rangers' one-point lead and oust them from third place. Both will have six games left to fight it out down the home stretch.

Wings and Hawks have few worries about the play-off situation, though there may be a little jockeying for position. The hustling Detroiters are on top of the American section with a three-point margin over Hawks.

Canadian Scottish intermediate rugby fifteen will hold a workout this evening at MacDonald's Park at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

West Saanich and Cardinals Champs

Capture Vancouver Island
Senior B and Intermediate A Girls' Championships By Victories Over Nanaimo
Teams; Kingham-Gillespie
Victors

West Saanich Mercantiles and Jack Taylor's Cardinals captured Vancouver Island basketball championships when they defeated teams from Nanaimo in the return games of home and home series yesterday evening at the Victoria High School gym.

The Saanich squad under the leadership of Morris Atkins downed the opposing Nanaimo senior B quintette 73 to 54, after a battle that was ragged but interesting. The Cardinals, intermediate A girls, marched through to an easy win over the Coal City girls, 44 to 14.

Battling in the first game of a home-and-home series for the island championship, Kingham-Gillespie, intermediate A quintette, took the Nanaimo Galahads into camp 53 to 19.

The two deciding games were not up to expectation, for judging from the first games of the series, which resulted in a bare margin win of 36 to 23 for West Saanich over Nanaimo, and saw Nanaimo Drawettes fight the Cardinals to a 35 to 35 draw, some keen competition was anticipated. The Mercantiles took the series 109 to 87, and the Cardinals 68 to 48.

WEST SAANICH WIN

Surging to the front with but seven minutes of the first half remaining, West Saanich gained their first substantial lead of the encounter and were ahead 48 to 28 at half-time.

The second half was marked by repeated rallies on both sides and proved to be a fairly even battle. The visiting quintette at times managed to knock a few points off their deficit, but West Saanich managed to always keep well ahead. Nanaimo outscored Victoria in this half, 26 to 25.

Karl Young, Clarence and Charlie Suggett, valuable members of the West Saanich squad, were chased on personals. Nanaimo lost Emerick. Playing decidedly better ball than their opponents, the Cardinals ran up a 21 to 4 lead at the half. One-sided play was also seen in the second half.

Gaining a good lead at the start, Kingham-Gillespie were never threatened by their Nanaimo opponents.

Victoria allowed the visitors to score occasionally during the first part of the initial half. Nanaimo during the first five minutes secured eight of their ten points and got two during the remainder. During the final session they were held to nine points. Barber and Dale starred for the locals with fifteen and twelve points respectively. Denton topped the visitors with ten.

H. Green and A. Honeyman, Nanaimo, and Tommy Macdonald, Victoria, refereed the fixtures.

The teams and scores follow:

West Saanich Mercantiles—E. Butler, C. Suggett 15, W. Butler 2, Mitchell 17, C. Suggett, Lannon 9, Young 18 and C. Suggett 14. Total 109.

Nanaimo—Walford 1, Robinson 4, Brown 5, Naylor 19, Rafter 8, Houson 3, Emerick 3, Brown 4 and Hall 7. Total 64.

Kingham-Gillespie—Barber 15, Turner 12, Dale 8, Johnson 13, Phillips 2, Allen, Berry 3, and McConnell. Total 53.

Nanaimo—Anderson 4, Robinson 3, Johnston, Russell, Denton 10, Dickinson 2, Niven, Lague and Rogers. Total 19.

Cardinals—M. Wells, J. Trotter 6, V. Hannan 13, D. O'Connor 6, J. Milliken, B. Crosby 15 and V. Hall 4. Total 64.

Nanaimo—D. Behan, B. Monk, L. Rogers 6, J. Guinness 2, V. Behan, M. Horne, A. Dagg 4, E. Watson 2, and M. McGlinchey. Total 14.

COLD STORAGE CASE PROCEEDS

Bondholders Withdraw As Arguments on Claim Priority Opens.

Arguments to establish the priority of the lien of Parfitt Brothers, the contractors who erected the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Limited building at Ogden Point, is proceeding before Mr. Justice Lammiman in the County Court today.

Several adjournments have been granted on application of representatives for the bondholders when the case has been before the court on previous occasions, but after an explanation of this position this morning, D. P. W. Maunsell, who has been acting as counsel for the bondholders, withdrew this morning, and the application proceeded with D. S. Tait presenting the prior right of the contractors.

Before withdrawing, Mr. Maunsell explained the bondholders were heavily in debt to the trustee. The bondholders had failed to put up any funds and had given no authority for him to present any evidence of judgment to any habeas corpus writ.

The bondholders, commented Judge Lammiman, appear to have practically abandoned the case, or to have lost interest.

J. L. Ballantyne, manager of the Administration and Trust Company of Vancouver, said the bondholders had been given $500,000, and refused to put up any more. It was expected, he said, that a meeting would be held towards the end of this month to consider a proposal from D. MacBride to take over the plant on a rental basis.

The trustees recently had put up $2,000 to keep the plant running. "I suppose the trustees will want to make a claim against somebody for that amount," remarked Judge Lammiman.

Before calling witnesses, Mr. Tait recalled judgment was delivered November 18, establishing Parfitt Brothers' lien, and it had been directed that the matter of priority between the contractors and the bondholders should be established on this date.

Mr. Tait submitted the evidence should be brought to show that prior to the erection of the building the site had no selling value whatever.

The mortgage did not enter into the picture, he submitted, and was not in effect a mortgage against the contractors, as it was not advanced prior to the erection of the building and improvements on which his clients claimed. The money was subsequently advanced and did not stand in the way of a mortgage at all.

G. H. Campbell, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, James Parfitt and James Forman were among the witnesses called today.

Mr. Forman gave evidence of values regarding sites of filled in land near the Ogden Point docks completed before the war, and on which the two bonded industries, the cold storage plant and the grain elevator had been erected.

Questioned by Mr. Tait, Mr. Forman said he doubted if he could have sold the lease of the cold storage plant site with the limitation that existed on it that it was to be used for a cold storage plant.

A. M. Stephen of Vancouver, well-known Canadian lecturer and writer, will visit Victoria and address a public meeting at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will deal with the dangers of an impending world war and the growth of fascist tendencies, showing how they can be averted by strengthening the forces of democracy and peace.

NOTES OF THE LEGISLATURE

TOMORROW
Debate continues; speakers, C. H. Tupper, Liberal, Similkameen; Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie; R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops.

YESTERDAY
The debate continued—L. Arnold Hanna, Liberal, Comox, spoke for an hour and ten minutes. Jack Price, C.C.F., Vancouver East, spoke for fifty-five minutes. S. McKeen, Liberal, Vancouver-Point-Grey, spoke for half an hour. Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, adjourned.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, acting attorney-general, introduced a bill regarding damages for negligence where more than one person is at fault.

Byron Johnson, Liberal, Victoria, introduced Victoria's private bill.

S. S. McKeen introduced Vancouver's private bill seeking charter amendments.

The two city bills were referred to the private bills committee, where they will come up next week.

Premier Pattullo announced he would file a return in answer to questions about the expenses of Cabinet trips to Ottawa.

The public accounts committee will start meetings shortly, it was indicated, when Hon. John Hart referred the 1934-1935 accounts to this body.

The House yesterday named a committee of its lawyers, Attorney-General Sloan, L. A. Hanna, R. H. Pooley, K.C., N. W. Whittaker, and Gordon S. Wismer, to check over the revision of British Columbia statutes undertaken during the last year, and make sure all is in order.

Reference to the departure of C. Norman Senior, former Vancouver Sun representative in the press gallery, was made by Mr. Hanna. He hoped Mr. Senior would serve the province equally well in his new position at Ottawa as he did in the press gallery here. Mr. Senior is now private secretary to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence.

Mr. Senior would serve the province equally well in his new position at Ottawa as he did in the press gallery here. Mr. Senior is now private secretary to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence.

Mrs. D. G. Steves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, has given notice she will move to have the House appoint a committee to survey the housing needs of the province and draw up a housing scheme.

M-G-M Director Seeks Locale

Hal Rosson Wants Log Drive For Scene in Edna Ferber's "Come and Get It"

Because there is no "log drive" in British Columbia logging operations, Vancouver Island will be passed up as the locale of spectacular scenes which are being shot in the production of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor talkie version of Edna Ferber's book "Come and Get It."

Hal Rosson, M-G-M director, was in Victoria today looking over a possible location for a log-driving scene in this picture, one of the big productions of the year. When he found that logging on Vancouver Island was done on the "high lead" system on the actual timber limits, the director said he would have to fall back on a location picked out in Idaho.

Rosson likes this territory and is a number of his biggest pictures he has come to B.C. to shoot scenes "ROSE MARIE" COLOR.

It is not generally known that Rosson came to Vancouver to shoot scenes in the "Rose Marie" production, featuring the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He is a stickler for correctness in detail as he got the real thing in mountains on this side of the international border, although horses had to be secured to take the place of automobiles, airplanes and motor boats, the modern method of police transportation.

Rosson was director of the M-G-M film, "West Point of Air," which has had a phenomenal run on the screen.

His name is a household word in Hollywood. He has been with M-G-M for five years and previously worked for Paramount and Fox.

Hollywood is again busy in picture production, Mr. Rosson said M-G-M produced ninety-seven pictures last year, compared with eighty-four in the peak year of 1928.

Mr. Rosson left with J. Howard Booth, director of Screen Ads., and now a motion theatre owner in Dunbar Heights, Vancouver, for Nanaimo en route to the Terminal City. Rosson remarked as he left for the island that he would like to build a home up here some day.

Roger Monteith, president of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association, announced today that the association will make a request to the Provincial Game Commission for the restocking of Kemp Lake, Thetis Lake and Prospect Lake with cutthroat trout. It is expected that this will be carried out during the spring months.

Because in calling the meeting of members of the Pacific Club, someone forgot to stipulate it as "extraordinary," as required by the Societies Act, the merger of the Pacific and the Union Clubs, voted for at the meeting, has been delayed. It has been necessary to call another meeting on March 10 to put through the motion again, with all legal technicalities observed.

Former members of the 46th Battalion, C.E.F. last Tuesday evening renewed acquaintance with Col. the Hon. J. A. Hope of Toronto, in the Naval Veterans Branch clubrooms. Colonel Hope, who attended the Canadian Infantry Association meeting here, was former major of unit overseas. Those attending the reunion were: E. M. Groulx, C. A. Hildrop, D. Knight, A. S. Balmer, Herbert Stokes, Edward W. Tanner and E. C. Young.

The regular rehearsal of the Victoria Choral Union will be held on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Christ Church Cathedral, instead of the Memorial Hall. Extra copies of Brahms's Requiem have been obtained and may be had by members on application to the librarian, Llewellyn Jones. Perfect attendance of members is requested from now until the performance of the Requiem on April 22.

Officials of the Victoria Automobile Club are busy at the present time compiling a list of hotels, camps, garages and cafes on the whole of Vancouver Island, to be published in their annual pamphlet, issued for the benefit of tourists who visit the island. The club wishes to point out that if any places were missed in previous years which qualify to be on the list, the proprietors should get in touch with the secretary of the club, T. J. Goodlake.

A lecture on "John Howard and Prison Reform," was given by Dean Quinlan at the Brentwood Club. He spoke of John Howard's prodigious and almost single-handed fight to remedy the terrible prison conditions of the eighteenth century were described by the lecturer. It was a fascinating story of courage, faith and perseverance, which ended with John Howard's death on the shores of the Black Sea from that very gall fever which he was then trying to stamp out. Though he died without achieving anything substantial in the way of concrete results, his spirit, the Dean pointed out, "had lived on," and was animating the still-needed prison reforms of the present day.

PROTECT SEED TREES IS PLAN

Chief Forester Tells House Committee Proposals to Guard Forest Wealth

Three proposals to protect British Columbia's forest wealth from disappearing without too great restrictions on the industry which distributes millions of dollars in payrolls each year, were made to the forestry committee of the British Columbia Legislature this morning by E. C. Manning, chief forester.

Greater protection against forest fires was essential, the chief forester said. More control should be exercised over the burning of slash. And there should be some regulation to protect seed trees for regeneration purposes.

Mr. Manning pointed out that there appeared little hope at the present of British Columbia lumbering escaping from the position of having to log as cheaply as possible to meet competition in the open world markets which involved long freight hauls.

"Quite frankly, our forestry situation is not entirely satisfactory," he said, "but in considering it, I take into account the money the industry distributes in payrolls and the value it is to the province."

DEPLETION EXCEEDS GROWTH
In the Coast area, he said, annual depletion now exceeds the growth. While not advocating a restriction in the cut, he thought that future generations had the right to expect the forests would be left reproductive.

"I don't defend waste, but I see no alternative unless you close the camps and throw the whole payroll out of work," he added.

He said a lot of statements had been made, some that forest resources would last forever, others that they would be exhausted within ten or fifteen years. He agreed with neither, as there were so many factors governing this position, including the possibilities of plastic woods, future prices which would turn wood into a more valuable commodity, and also the developments in other countries.

FIRE PROTECTION
He strongly advocated more protection against fires.

"You can't give proper protection against fires in this province for $400,000 a year," he said.

British Columbia has been extremely lucky, he pointed out, in having had four wet fire seasons in a row.

"If we have a normal fire season this year we will either over-expend our present vote by a large margin or else take a heavy loss in our forests."

Of the $400,000 voted last year, the government put up $300,000, and the private owners put up $100,000. The proportions were adjusted according to the amount of timber held by the government and the amount held in private hands.

Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F., Mackenzie, said the contributions should be based on the value of the timber rather than on acreage because private interests owned the best stands and would then pay a larger share. Mr. Manning said it would be almost hopeless to try and compute the fund on this basis.

EXCEPT DRIVE TO BE SUCCESS

One hundred workers will take the field in the annual Y.M.C.A. financial drive which officially begins on Monday. With the Y.M.C.A. growing more popular each year, this year's attendance having broken all records, it is expected that the 1936 campaign will be a big success.

Captains of the teams to participate in the drive will meet at supper in Spencer's dining room tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Mayor David Leeming, campaign chairman, will address the group.

The opening meeting of the campaign, which all workers will attend, will be held Monday night. As the opening meeting is the first step in the drive it is important that everyone be on hand.

Obituary

ROBERT HARRAP
Rev. F. L. Stephenson conducted the last rites over the remains of Robert Harrap yesterday in the presence of a large gathering of sympathizing friends. The hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung. The casket was draped with the Union Jack, and a profusion of beautiful flowers was received. The following acted as pallbearers: W. H. Lamont, Harry Ward, George Simpson, Major George Stannan, Wendy Toimie and George J. Warren. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

JOHN WILLIAM SANDERS
John William Sanders, pioneer resident of the Wellington district, passed away at his home in Wellington yesterday, at the age of sixty years. Mr. Sanders was well known as a fire boss in the old Wellington mines.

SIDNEY E. ARMSTRONG
The funeral of Sidney E. Armstrong, former Victorian who passed away on Tuesday at his home in Abbey, Saskatchewan, will take place on Saturday afternoon from McCall Brothers Funeral Home. Rev. James Hood, pastor of Belmont United Church, will conduct the service at 3:30 o'clock, after which interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Poster Designs For Festival
Adjudication on School Posters Set For March 20 at Chamber of Commerce

Designs in the poster competition preliminary to the Victoria Musical Festival must be submitted to the School Board offices by 4 o'clock on March 14. It was announced today at the Musical Festival offices in the Pemberton Building.

The poster competition will be adjudicated upon by John Kyle, director of technical education, in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, on March 20. Material for the posters is left to the discretion of the competitors, but must not exceed 22x14 in size. The posters must advertise the Victoria Musical Festival, which will be held from March 31 to April 4.

There are two classes in the poster competition. Class 150, poster design, is open to public and private school pupils of grades 6, 7 or 8. Class 151 is open to high school and senior private school pupils.

A trophy donated by the Arts and Crafts Society will be competed for and there will be three scrip prizes in each class.

The idea of the competition is to foster commercial art among the school children.

FEWER ENTRIES
Entries for the Musical Festival closed yesterday afternoon.

A falling off of about 15 per cent in total registrations is shown compared with last year. Although on the surface the figures were slightly disappointing, compensating facts are noted by J. A. Grob, president of the festival committee.

The elimination of bands and wind instruments this year accounts to some extent for the decrease in entries. It was not quite so easy to explain the drop in the registration of strings, Mr. Gibbs said. There are also less entries in the piano and orchestra classes, but this is thought to be due to the time of the year in which the festival has been placed.

A programme committee will meet tomorrow evening to prepare a tentative programme which will be endorsed or amended at a special meeting of the general committee scheduled for Saturday.

JANUARY LAND SALES LOWER
Big Reduction Shown in Value of Property Changing Hands

Land sales, transfers and changes through wills fell to a figure less than one-third as large as that recorded in January, 1935, during the first month of this year, it was shown in figures compiled by A. Danby, assistant city assessor, today.

Against an aggregate of $386,705 in the first month of last year, January's total was only $113,445. In December, 1935, the total was $123,577.

Sales dropped to $29,905 in January this year against $116,915 for the same month last year and $68,351 in December.

Transfers amounted to $21,060 last January against $158,285 in January, 1935, and $50,356 in December.

Changes in ownership through wills in January stood at $62,480 against $111,535 at the beginning of last year and $14,960 in December.

The January, 1935, transfers included a large number of parcels that went to tax sale through default in the fifteen-year consolidated arrears plan.

Since having broken all records, it is expected that the 1936 campaign will be a big success.

Captains of the teams to participate in the drive will meet at supper in Spencer's dining room tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Mayor David Leeming, campaign chairman, will address the group.

The opening meeting of the campaign, which all workers will attend, will be held Monday night. As the opening meeting is the first step in the drive it is important that everyone be on hand.

OAK BAY LEVY MAY INCREASE
Possibility of Slightly Higher Tax Rate Foreseen: Assessments Are Cut

Faced with assessment reductions on land and an increase in the school trustee's requirements this year, there is a possibility the Oak Bay Council will find it necessary to make a slight increase in this year's tax rate, it was indicated today as the council neared completion of the 1936 budget after two evenings of consideration.

It was learned the increase might take the form of a rise in both the mill rate and the improvement tax.

After carefully considering the current estimates, the council has pared the tentative schedule by several thousand dollars, confining their efforts chiefly to slicing proposed extensive public works to keep relief workers employed on constructive jobs.

The council is faced with a net loss of revenue totalling $5,716 from assessment reductions. There is a decrease from $3,306,737 to $3,094,435 in land assessments and an increase of from $7,507,580 to $7,643,720 in improvement assessments. The net loss of revenue is based on last year's tax rate of twenty-six mills on land and 40 per cent of improvements.

NEW WORK NECESSARY
The school board this year is contemplating a gross expenditure of $64,364, including $2,750 for replacement of the Monterey School heating system.

This latter point came before the council at its last meeting and was deferred pending an interview with the trustees.

Trustees S. J. Drake and B. W. Murdoch interviewed the council at a committee meeting and after hearing of the necessity for this work the council has practically agreed to this expenditure as an extraordinary one.

Last year, actual expenditure of the school board was $68,545, leaving an estimated deficit for this year of $1,181. This increase also provides for the possible addition to the teaching staff, necessitated by the growth of the municipality.

While the tax rate may increase there will not be a substantial change in the total revenue received, it was pointed out, since there will be a loss from assessment reductions. In some cases, where considerable land assessment reductions were made, taxes will not be as high, despite the increased rate.

SPENCER CHOIR GIVES CONCERT

Large Audience Enjoys Fine Programme at Empress Hotel

By G. J. D.

The two large business houses of the city in their respective choral groups show considerable enterprise and worthily maintain their good standards. Large audiences gather at their annual appearances in concert.

One of these annual concerts was that given by the David Spencer

Choir at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening and a large and appreciative audience was present.

The programme, built up of twelve choral numbers chiefly by English composers, a sextette of female voices and two Bach groups, carefully and contrastingly selected, and the choir's singing were marked by many evidences of a keen musical sense, which means that these come in large part from the conductor, Frank Tupman.

Mr. Tupman does not look for super-proficiency from the choir's willing members, but rather demands precision, an admirable concentration of musical thought, good diction and unanimity, which he skillfully gathers from the natural confines of a store choral group. Care must be taken with the clipping of the consonants, vitality in rhythms, the use of the r's and in "attack."

The programme opened with an appropriate group of three numbers, the lively, rhythmic "The Chase" (Sir

Edward German), Eric Thiman's

"Ye Banks and Brees" (was not this a trifle hurried?), and the happy, bithe, gay old-melodious "Sing We and Chant It," by de Pearsall, a composer of the seventeenth century.

The first of the second group, the extremely tuneful "Where My Caravan Has Rested" (Herman Lohr) was a fine bit of singing on the part of the sopranos, and the second, the old English favorite arranged by

Percy Fletcher, where the "humming" of the female voices to the melody sung by the male voices, and the harmonization of the third verse, all proved most attractive, meeting with much applause.

Edward German's always popular

"London Town" had life and hit, good precision and well-enunciated words. This was redemanded.

The "Bridal Chorus from Cowsen's

"Rose Maiden," Ernest Hallett's

"Lady Lay Those Frowns Aside" (was there more in this well-written setting than appeared in the "request"

(Turn to Page 16, Col. 6)

Fine Cast at

The Columbia

"A Notorious Gentleman," with an all-star cast headed by Charles Rickford, Helen Vinson, Sidney Blackmer,

Dudley Digges and Chelov Stevens, is at the Columbia Theatre.

This surprising drama has as its theme outraged and scorned love carried to the most desperate extreme of revenge.

Edward Laemmle directed the story, which was written by Colin Clement and Florence Ryerson. The atmosphere of the South pervades the picture, and while the dramatic intensity of the courtroom scenes is highly exciting and full of swift action, the background is full of the charm that is part of the life of the South.

Also being shown as the second feature is "The Big Cage," with the sensational dare-devil, Clyde Beatty.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—A young woman with whom my husband has been having an affair thinks I should divorce him so that he and she might marry. I have offered him the freedom repeatedly, but he insists that he loves only me and that if I will be patient, this woman will eventually give him up. He tells me that he would not marry her under any circumstances. We both love our children and our home very much, and aside from this trouble we are quite congenial, but our life together is far from being peaceful. What would you advise me to do?

UNHAPPY.

Answer—Well, one of the things I would not do would be to turn over my husband to the impudent hussy who wants to marry him, although he deserves some such drastic punishment for the way he has treated you.

For, believe me, nine times out of ten, a discarded wife could ask for no more bitter revenge upon her husband than the agony of disillusionment and loneliness he suffers when he finds that he has exchanged his faithful and devoted old wife for one whom he cannot trust, one who has no affection for him and whose only interest in him is centered in his pocketbook. Many and many a time a bad woman avenges the wrongs of a good woman.

No outsider can tell you what to do in the complicated situation in which you find yourself. Your own heart and conscience and common sense must be your guides. It is fully even to advise you to take the course that will make you happy, because whichever road you elect to follow will be filled with thorns.

No woman married to a philanderer can ever know any real peace of mind because she is always smarting under the indignity he puts upon her. If she loves him, she is filled with jealousy. On the other hand, neither will she find peace of mind and happiness if she leaves him. Often a half loaf is better than no bread at all. At least it keeps you from starving. And many a wife is happier keeping her husband's house, ministering to him, seeing him every day, even if most of his time and attention are given to other women, than she is if she puts him altogether out of her life.

Divorce isn't the panacea for a hurt heart that women believe it to be. A decree absolute isn't some sort of a magic that changes love into indifference, that blows out torturing memories, that changes one into a gay, carefree girl again. All that it does is to fill her with a sense of frustration and to break up her life, wreck her home and throw her out into the world to grapple with problems for which she is untrained and unfit.

So I think a woman should think a long time before she gets a divorce even from a husband who is far from coming up to her ideal. For as a married woman she has at least many consolation prizes where the divorcee has few.

Consider these in your own case. You have your good home, a comfortable living, your place in society, your pleasant circle of friends. He is congenial and companionable; in fact, a desirable husband, except for his one fault. If you leave him, you leave all of these material comforts behind you and you must accept a lower scale of living. For the money that supports one family comfortably will be a meagre income for two families to live on. Of course, if you divorce your husband, he will marry again. Take it from me, my dear, that when you have to count your pennies and walk instead of ride in an automobile and eat poor food, and especially when you find how hard it is for a middle-aged domestic woman to get a job, you will wonder why you ever let your husband's flirtations drive you to Reno.

And there are the children who, after all, are most to be considered. Even if you could buy your own happiness by divorcing your husband, do you think wrecking their lives is worth that price? Their father is good to them. They love him. You can't break up that relationship. You cannot tear them up by the roots from their home without doing something terrible to them from which they never recover.

What Shakespeare says about it being better to bear the ills we have than fly to those we know not of, is true of nothing so much as of divorce.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am very much in love with a young man who is devoted to me, but I am of the hasty and go-getter type. He belongs to the easy-going, what-the-use school of thought and I fear that if we marry we will be miserable. I think that if a boy really cares for a girl he will try to his utmost to make something of himself and to make her a comfortable living. His argument is that if I love him I won't care for anything else and we will live happily ever after, whether we have anything to live on or not. I want a husband on whom I can depend and to whom I can look up to and marvel at his doings, instead of one who is content to spend his life sitting on the do-nothing stool. Am I narrow-minded, or am I right?

Answer—You are absolutely right. No two people of as different temperaments as you and your fiancé should ever marry. Congeniality is the very bedrock of marital happiness.

Two people who have the same tastes and habits and points of view, who have the same ambitions and aspirations, and who like to do the same things can make a go of marriage under any circumstances. They can be happy working or playing, wasting their money or saving it, climbing up the ladder of success together or sitting contentedly at the bottom, but if one wants to save and the other to spend; if one is industrious and the other lazy; if one wants to stay put and the other wants to go places, they are bound to quarrel because their desires clash at every turn.

The fate of the Kilkenny cats will be yours if you marry this purposeless young man. Life will be one perpetual scuffling match because you will want different things of life. He will want ease and you will want action. You will soon cease to love each other because he will regard you as a slave-driver who is always lashing him to greater efforts and disturbing the peace and calm and indolence in which he likes to steep himself. And you will come to have a contempt for him as a good-for-nothing idler who is too inert even to try to hold his own with other men. Besides, a strong woman should never marry a weak man. He can never forgive her for being a better man than he is.

DOROTHY DIX.

Uncle Wiggly Wheels the Baby

By HOWARD R. GARIS

One day, before Uncle Wiggly had a chance to start off adventuring, his rabbit lady wife called to him, asking the baby out for an airing.

"Yes, my dear, I will," answered Mr. Longears. "Which baby, if you please?"

"Let me see," said Mrs. Longears, who was up in the nursery. "It is Baby number Forty Seven Seventeen."

"All right," said Uncle Wiggly. "Wrap up Baby Forty Seven Seventeen warmly, for it is cold today, and I'll wheel her around the block a couple of times before I go adventuring."

So Uncle Wiggly got on his hat and his fur coat and was all ready to wheel Baby Forty Seven Seventeen in her carriage around the block for some fresh air while she was asleep.

"Is the baby ready yet?" he called up the stairs to his wife.

"I'm bringing her right down," answered the rabbit lady. "She is just asleep. I'll put her in the carriage."

WENT TO MAKE LEVITATION. "I'll just hop down to the corner and drop a letter in the box," said Uncle Wiggly.

"All right," said Mrs. Longears. "I'll have little Forty Seven Seventeen ready when you get back. Is the carriage out in front?"

"Right by the front steps," said Uncle Wiggly.

Quickly he hopped down to the letter box. Quietly he hopped back again and there was the baby carriage out in front with many gaily colored blankets in it all bundled up.

"Well, little Forty Seven Seventeen is well wrapped," he said. "She won't want to awaken the baby. She won't get cold as I wheel her around the block."

Off he hopped, gently wheeling the carriage along the sidewalks that had been cleaned of snow. Uncle Wiggly was very happy when he thought of his nice little baby rabbit in the bundle of blankets.

When he was half way around the block, Uncle Wiggly met Mrs. Twisttail, the lady pig, very fat, jolly and happy.

"Oh, you have one of your dear little rabbits, grunted Mrs. Twisttail. "May I just take a baby? I want a baby. Wake her." She opened the blankets and looked in. Then she cried: "Why, Uncle Wiggly! You haven't a baby in there at all!"

WHERE'S THE BABY?

"I haven't!" asked Mr. Longears. "Oh, my goodness!" he cried, as he opened the blankets wider and saw an empty carriage. "She must have bounced out when I went over the hill. Oh, what will my wife say? We got to find little Forty Seven Seventeen!"

Back he rushed, pushing the carriage ahead of him. His heart was beating fast. He looked all along the sidewalk, but didn't see any lost baby rabbit. Oh, how sorry he was.

But when he got back to the bungalow, there, out in front, was his wife holding Baby Forty Seven Seventeen in her paw.

"Why in the world did you hop away wheeling an empty carriage, Wiggly?" she asked her husband. "You've been waiting for you."

"Oh, dear me!" laughed Mr. Longears. "I thought the baby was in the bundle of blankets and so did Mrs. Twisttail. I'm glad I didn't lose her. Ha! Ha! Ha!"

So the baby was really put in the carriage this time. And if the police dog will give the golden ticket to ride on the toy railroad train, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Bunsy.

Two Ships Expected From British Ports

Parthenia Will Be Along Tonight and Loch Monar Tomorrow With 650 Tons; Other Waterfront Activities

With 650 tons of general freight for discharge at this port, the Royal Mail motorship Loch Monar, Capt. A. Watts, will reach the Ogden Point piers tomorrow morning from the British Isles, via the Panama Canal and California ports.

A. P. Moffat, local agent for the line, said the Loch Monar would be here most of the day. Before continuing to Vancouver she will load some doors and barrel stock for London. The ship sailed from San Francisco Tuesday evening.

DUE TONIGHT

Also coming from the British Isles is the Donaldson freighter Parthenia, which A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated Limited expects at the Rithet piers at midnight tonight. She is coming here from Seattle, and will probably be worked immediately, so that she will reach Vancouver before noon tomorrow. She is carrying about seventy-five tons of general freight for discharge at Victoria.

LUMBER SHIPS

Close to 3,000,000 feet of Vancouver Island lumber will go out from the Ogden Point piers today aboard the Greek freighters Eugene S. Embrosio and George M. Embrosio, and the Norwegian freighter Chris Knudsen. The Greek ships will leave tonight for Vancouver to finish at mainland ports for the United Kingdom, while the Chris Knudsen, will proceed later this afternoon for Port Alberni to complete for Atlantic ports of the United States.

SAILS SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon will see the departure from Victoria, for Honolulu and the Orient, of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada. She will take out a good list of passengers. Bound for Victoria, and the last of the Empresses to be drydocked this year, the Ss. Empress of Russia sailed today from Yokohama. She is expected here Saturday morning March 14.

GOES TO DRYDOCK

The Ss. Princess Victoria was this morning put into the Dominion Government's drydock at Esquimalt Harbor for underwater cleaning and painting by Tarrow's Limited. She is the first of the "Princesses" to go into the basin this year, and next week will release the Ss. Princess Alice from the triangle run.

IN ACTIVE PASS

The lighthouse tender Estevan is today working on the Gaspier Reef buoy. In active pass, and is expected back at her base in the Inner Harbor tomorrow night. She has been absent the last few days carrying out work in the Gulf of Georgia. During the few weeks the Estevan will receive her annual spring overhaul.

EXPECT LINER TO BE FREED

San Pedro, March 5.—The crew of the Panama-Pacific liner California agreed today to abandon their strike that has held the ship and 441 passengers in port for three days. Indications were that the California would sail tonight for New York.

Break in the strike of 374 unionized men came after two labor leaders, Joseph Connor and Barney O'Sullivan, exhorted the crew to carry out the original contract, forgetting their demands for Pacific Coast wages, and finish the cruise.

By viva voce vote, the crew widely agreed to the speakers' suggestions. Watching the spectacular meeting of the crew from the decks above were the passengers, anxious to continue the voyage they began Sunday at San Francisco.

The strikers demanded Pacific Coast wages which are about $5 monthly higher than the east coast wage scale, which they accepted in New York.

Ship Workers Cheer "Teddy"

King Edward Inspects Ss. Queen Mary at Glasgow, as Men Keep at Work

Glasgow, Scotland, March 5.—King Edward was cheered as "good old Teddy" by 2,000 workmen on the giant new liner, Queen Mary, today. The nickname for Edward was shouted as he completed a two and three-quarter hour inspection tour of the partially completed ship.

The King remarked, "This is a ship for utility," and expressed his desire to visit it again before the maiden voyage in May.

Thousands of persons thronged the streets to see Edward on his first visit to Scotland as King.

The King expressed a desire that his visit should be private with no unusual public display, and special arrangements were made for him to meet the Lord Provost and Glasgow Corporation officials at a place which was kept secret.

After his inspection of the 78,000-ton superliner King Edward intended to tour one of the worst slum districts of Glasgow.

His inspection of the Queen Mary involved a long walk through the twelve decks of the ship, with several thousand workmen continuing to hammer, saw and pound in the task of getting the vessel ready for trial runs March 24.

New Elevator At Three Rivers

Company to Erect Grain Building on Federal Government Wharf in Quebec

Ottawa, Canada Press.—The government has signed a lease with the Three Rivers Grain and Elevator Company Limited, Three Rivers, Que., covering construction of a private elevator on a government-owned wharf, a return tabling yesterday afternoon in the House of Commons said.

Estimated annual revenue to be derived by the government was given as $22,835, or 16 per cent on the investment in the land leased.

The return was tabled by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Railways and Minister of Marine, in answer to a series of questions placed on the order paper by Dr. W. S. Hall, Social Credit, East Edmonton.

"Are not the present elevator facilities at Montreal and Quebec adequate?" Dr. Hall asked.

"That is a matter of opinion," was the reply.

"The elevator is required at Three Rivers, why does the government not build and operate it when they have already developed this wharf?"

"In the opinion of the government if private capital is willing to build and operate a grain elevator at Three Rivers it should be allowed to do so."

Mr. Hall was informed that "the Three Rivers Harbor Commissioners who went out of office October 31, 1935, had authorized and executed a lease of a site" for the proposed elevator on October 30, 1935. "The new board of harbor commissioners," proceeded the return, "who assumed office November 1, 1935, recognized the obligation entered into by the old board, but found a modification and revision of the terms embodied in the lease necessary in the public interest. The revised lease was executed February 26, 1936."

Pacific Commerce Coming Up Coast

Vancouver, March 5.—Ms. Pacific Commerce which has been sold to the Brynmor Steamship Co., of Swansea, at a reported price of $150,000, now sailing under its new house flag.

The sale does not alter the time charter with Canadian Transport Co. of Vancouver, which has operated the vessel on the Vancouver-Montreal-Halifax run for some years. It is also believed no changes will be made in personnel.

No More Piles

Get Quick, Pleasant Relief

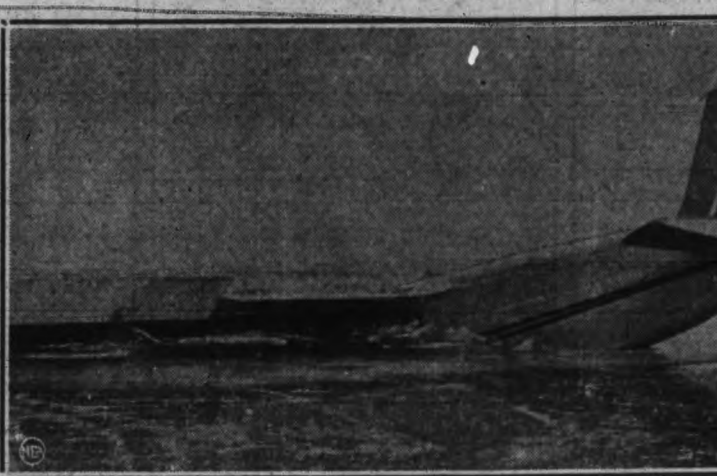

Probably not one person in ten knows the cause of piles is made—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about piles and is the real reason why salve and surgery do not give more than temporary relief—they do not remove the cause.

Your piles can be relieved only if you have corrected the condition which causes them. That is why an internal medicine like HEM-ROID can be used. HEM-ROID is the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, who early in his professional life made many tests to relieve piles by correcting the cause. His medicine succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, causes the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

So if you have failed to get the relief you want from your sore, painful piles, and would like to give HEM-ROID a trial, you have our promise to return your money, if just one bottle of this prescription does not give pleasing results. MacParlane or Vancouver Drug Store or any drugstore can supply you with the genuine HEM-ROID.

THIS PLANE WENT SKATING ON THIN ICE

Usually the plane gets shattered in a "crack-up," but in this case, the thin ice on Lake Erie cracked up, and the craft, which made a forced landing near Vermilion, O., nose dived into the chilly water. Three occupants narrowly escaped death. Henry A. Canning, owner and pilot, stands by to direct salvage.

Marie Celeste Link Is Taken By Death

Famous Mystery of the Sea Is Recalled By Death of Captain Orr in New Brunswick

Canadian Press.—Rexton, N.B., March 5.—The death of Captain George Orr, eighty-seven, at his home here, has removed the last survivor of close relation to the most baffling sea mystery on record—disappearance of all hands from the brigantine Marie Celeste, sixty-four years ago.

A famous stained, broken sword found aboard the abandoned craft is in the possession of the Orr family here.

Captain Orr was a member of the crew of the British barque Del Gratia, half of whose complement sailed the Marie Celeste into Gibraltar, after finding her drifting aimlessly between the Madeira and Canary Islands.

Arounding conjecture throughout the world, the unsolved mystery became the basis of numerous plays and thrillers by prominent writers.

Hope of learning what had happened to Captain Briggs, thirty-six, his wife and daughter, the latter aged four, and his crew of twelve, has long been abandoned. On November 1, 1971, the Marie Celeste sailed from Boston for Genoa on the faithful voyage destined to make her world-famous. The brigantine was built at Spencer's Island, N.S., launched in 1860 and registered at Parrsboro, N.S. Later she became the property of a United States firm.
